12:11:38 From Donna Marie Simon to Everyone:
Hi everyone!
12:11:41 From Laura, Astrology Hub to Susan Dickow, host and panelists:
Here's how you can keep The Chat from popping up…
If you are on a desktop computer, you can click "chat" at the bottom of the window. This makes it so that the chat is on the side of your Zoom window and you can then drag your window over to the side, hiding the chat from your view (or, you can click the arrow at the top of the chat, click "pop out" which separates the chat completely & you can hide it.

If you are on a mobile device, click the 3 dots at the bottom of the zoom screen that says “more” then click “chat”, then click on the bell icon at the top right corner and it will ask you if you would like to mute notifications. Click “mute” and then the bell will have a line through it, you can click “Close” and you’ll come back to us

Wow Natasha... this is so resonant to me and I was literally writing about this in my journal this morning. Listening to my intuition and letting go of all the 'mistakes' I've made in the past where I didn't listen to it.

@Chris - tech as communication/connection source is very Air element, which is already overloaded in our culture. With my clients we do soooo much grounding and watering!! Because we are over-Inter-netted and over-phoned, over-informationed.

@Laura L - thank you. I was in tech-communication-community business in the very early days (1992!!) so I've had decades to figure out what this does to us and for us.

I agree Ari
12:25:03 From SusanNYC to Everyone:
There's this thing called hope...it's much easier to have when you are young. I'm 60 and female. Right now I'm feeling pretty hopeless for women and feel I won't see necessary change in my lifetime. Surrender is hard. Hope is harder. When? I'm grateful for this community, as it provides comfort that I'm not alone, and that is priceless....

12:28:14 From Jim to Everyone:
I intuit the Pisces-Aries influence as one of being a case of "zipper it in" as we proceed over the next year, rather than the worry of over-balancing either energy. It's great to want to "clear the decks" and get on with it in Aries, but this gradual approach is what seems best.
12:28:35 From T of Burning Tarot to Everyone:
I wrote about online oracles and briefly worked for early CD-ROM (!! Cd-rom ha ha) based I Ching and Tarot. Yes, these can be valuable. But the overall, over-tech world can be muuuuuch too much
12:28:39 From LINDSAY HOLT STUDIO to Everyone:
Lindsay here in Santa Fe, NM Thanks for this forum today to all … I just want to ADD please that trust we gave collectively to the tech scene up to 30 years ago when Uranus & Neptune were still in Aquarius was the thing we "the collective" should have attempted to be more aware of, we became enslaved by tech we did not take control of we became consumers of it & NOW we have the same potential w AI once again we're being asked (or told) to trust here in this time > Uh oh ???

I also wonder if there is a confusion between opinion and facts. Facts, evidenced based facts is fact. The bones of the story. However, opinions are your own. We are all entitled to our own opinions.

What if we are all a small expression of all the possibilities of the vastness of the Universe. In perspective of the Universe, it would be impossible to manifest all of the wisdom into a single small vessel such as a human body. Perhaps this is why we are individuals, each with our own perspectives and life experiences; we are a tiny speck of the whole picture, but equally important as a part of the big picture.

Beyond our beliefs (jupiterian energy) we are all humans, all warm hearted, with dreams, hopes, need for comfort, need for love and fun... a need to make sense of our lives (neptune divine beings). So we are meant to break from our limitations (saturn) and see what's beyond our own limitations (uranus) that stops us from the neptunian bliss...

We feel it, but we also question our intuition. So it appears shocking.
12:58:10 From Jenn to Everyone:
Oooof. It is interesting how much resistance I have to certain mindsets. I have a lot of Sag, including Mercury! I can be guilty of unbending mindset. But I think the work I need to do is to move past contrasting mindsets to shared humanity. It's scary though, because as a parent, I also feel I have to hold strong stances for my kids, i.e., no, we do NOT allow or accept this or that hateful belief, meanwhile staying out of hate ourselves. It is hard.

I think our brains' are set up for separate functions and we've evolved in a physical "reality" that operates, basically as a dualistic system. Any good system is expansive… not a prison or limiter of ideas or an absolute understanding of truth but an opportunity to look at an idea or “truth”but a lens to help one see or organize intuitive information, which is why western astrology and Vedic have truth..so trying on a different system opens all kind of fresh information

13:15:51 From Wynn to Everyone:
I like when Brett said really early on.. not to be so sensitive.. I think a lot of people, especially in our astrologies communities are perhaps overly sensitive, because we haven’t had acceptance from families, churches or this/that community… but there is free to be a part of other communities or build new communities… without depending or requiring places that haven’t worked for us to change for us.

eyes wide open . .. no fear earth's magnetosphere which exists because we have a north & south magnetic pole began to loose it's strength in the 70's. by 2000 strength was down 15% and by now it is 15% weaker and still dropping. this is something earth has experienced about every 6000 yrs. for millions of years, the poles actually flip or at least try to flip.this tends to bring about great change, they are generally thought of as extinction events. this drop in the strength of the magnetosphere is expected to continue till less than 25% is all there is left and that should come about by 2050-2060, possibly sooner. there will be no escape, there will only be the luck of the community one is part of and the communities that survive will be few and far between. once the poles have flipped, the strength will return slowly and life will rebuild. I believe this is my reason for being around, to spread this message, which I have been learning about for 15 yrs. and it seems as though still no one has heard about i

I usually check out at this point in time: it feels like what many are leaning into that we should all live in Kumbiya [been so long I no longer recall how to spell it !] moments. No. In the first Trump win, I visited one of my brothers and his wife. I asked if we could talk about why they voted for Trump. My sister-in-law asked, why would I want to do that? I said to get to know them—each better. She then said to me, I already know what you think. We don't need to talk about it. 'Do you think we'll have a better time shopping or going to dinner tomorrow?' I said,

13:25:25 From T of Burning Tarot to Everyone:

@Brooke If we find the humanity in each other we may have to let go of our big opinions sometimes. It's really hard. I was unwilling to do that in Trump I , 2020, and lost a childhood, close friend due to it. I regret it. Not worth it. Love should have won.

13:25:26 From Donna Marie Simon to Everyone:

Ears wide open; heart wide open

13:25:28 From Sue Black to Host and panelists:

Can anyone on the panel possibly share how they see/feel the astrology is speaking to themes of economic systems; changes in how we share/trade/ etc with each other? or even what their personal intuitions are sensing in this area? This is arguably the number 1 area people are struggling, confused, despairing, blind… Yet it's hardly ever talked about. Even as a psychologist, it's one of the most neglected topics in our field. I think the assumption is that it's "just that way" . But all offers for help is primarily held behind barriers of financial outlay that people can't make. this was the primary attractor for me to this event. It has a different flavour somehow. Yet, we all need to eat!

Continued: I said I do think by know more about how we each think, we'll have a better/deeper time doing other things together. And she said, "I don't." End of discussion. I had to accept it. —Amanda is now talking about, Can we love them? It is hard. Very hard. I have sustained/maintained a relationship with that brother, even as he is politically very different from me. Family jumps over it because there are other aspects of our selves we do share and love each other for. We live and always have multiple states from each other. So in this lifetime, there isn't enough time (interest?) in trying to find more commonalities. OK, that's enough.

13:28:36 From T of Burning Tarot to Everyone:

Nature. Heart. Loved ones. So hard to get grounded in that instead of "engaging", which is what the tech companies want us to do. They intentionally amp up negativity and anger (via algorithms/feeds) to keep us "engaged" -- to sell ads. So it can help to understand that we are being played.

I think there is such wisdom in the ‘yes/no’ of Virgo…. I’ve noticed for me over the last couple years with some intense lessons that I’ve been refining my yes/no connection with myself - really feeling what is truly rising in me - yes or no- in the moment - setting boundaries based on past experience to create safety in the future has been important and useful in my life AND now I’m experimenting more with presence moment awareness of the yes or no rising in me in any given moment. This feels like sovereignty for me. I’m loving it! -I’m a Virgo rising w/’65 stellium w/mars in Virgo
13:43:46 From Arpana Warren to Everyone:

On Children

Kahlil Gibran
1883 –
1931
And a woman who held a babe against her bosom said, Speak to us of Children.
And he said:
Your children are not your children.
They are the sons and daughters of Life's longing for itself.
They come through you but not from you,
And though they are with you yet they belong not to you.

You may give them your love but not your thoughts,
For they have their own thoughts.
You may house their bodies but not their souls,
For their souls dwell in the house of tomorrow, which you cannot visit, not even in your dreams.
You may strive to be like them, but seek not to make them like you.
For life goes not backward nor tarries with yesterday.
You are the bows from which your children as living arrows are sent forth.
The archer sees the mark upon the path of the infinite, and He bends you with His might
