

All right. Hello, everyone. Oh, my gosh, it's so amazing to see you seeing your names in the chat. People are coming from all over the world. This is so incredible. And so, first of all, welcome. I'm so happy you're here. Thank you for making the time and space for yourself to tune into the cosmic weather of 2026. We have so much to talk about. We are going to be here for two hours of amazings, and I just am so happy that you're here.

So we're doing this a little bit later in the year. This. This time. I mean, we've played around with different times to do this event. This is the 10th time we are doing this event, you guys. So sometimes we. We do it in December. We're doing it later in January. And I have to say, I am so happy we waited until we're in 2026 this year, because I don't know about you, but for me, this year feels so different already.

It feels so different than the last few years that we've had. So are you feeling that, too? Is it. Does the energy feel different? Are you getting, like a whole different sort of vibe happening? Yes. Yes. Lots of hellos. Yes. Okay. It's going so fast, I can't even read it, but I'm seeing a lot of yes. Okay. So for those of you who don't know me, my name is Amanda Poole Walsh.

I am the founder of Astrology Hub, and I just want to officially welcome you with a huge astrology hug, which is one of the names for Astrology Hub that got coined years ago. And we are. We're just embracing you all in a hug. My whole team, the astrologers who are here tonight, and if you're a first timer, can you please say that in the chat? Is this your first time at an Astrology Hub event?

Say yes in the chat. Welcome if it is. And some of you have been doing this particular event for 10 years. So if you've been hanging out with us for a long time, let us know in the chat too. You don't have. It doesn't have to be 10 years, maybe even just a couple years. But we're so happy all of you are here. New friends, old friends, all of you.

We are this amazing collective of spiritual star lovers, of lovers of the cosmos, of the universe, of curious seekers who are really wanting to find our place in the universe and connect with that inner design that is unique and ours to contribute. And so it's a beautiful, amazing community here. And I'm just so Happy you're all here. All right, before I go on, thank you to all of the generous give as you wish contributions.

We receive them all so gratefully as precious gifts from you. Thank you. You are helping to continue to do these kinds of free events, the podcast, all the different kinds of things that we offer here at Astrology Hub. So thank you and. All right, I want to start with this analogy because I often consider us surfers. We often talk about the, the similarity between the waves of the ocean and the cosmic waves.

And my love has been a big wave surfer his whole life. And so yesterday I asked him, when you see a big swell coming in, what do you do to get ready for it? What do you observe about the waves or the ocean? And what kind of decisions are you making as you, you see, and you know, okay, this is a big swell, which 20, 26 would be one of those.

What are the kinds of things that you're thinking about? And so he told me he's looking at the rhythm of the waves. He's. He's thinking about what board would be ideal to use for the waves. He is watching the wind and, and seeing how it's impacting, where he would want to actually catch the wave. And he is looking for a channel or a riptide in order to paddle out.

So where. Obviously doesn't want to paddle out in a riptide, but where's their channel there that he can, he can take to get out to the waves? And then where are the riptides? Where are the places that are dangerous that he doesn't want to get stuck? And so what I was thinking is that this is exactly what we are doing here today. We have these amazing surf, we have these amazing surfer astrologers who are looking out at the cosmic waves.

They are telling us there is a swell coming and they're giving us the information that we need in order to make decisions. So when we're looking at the wave pattern, that's looking at the transits or the aspects, when we're looking at the timing and timing the waves, that's the hotspots and the intense moments in the air. When, when we're looking for channels or riptides, channels are going to be periods of time when the flow of the water is going to support us in taking action.

And riptides, those are blind spots. Those are less mature expressions of these archetypes we're going to be exploring and also looking at our own strengths and weaknesses. Where do we know where? It's a little bit Harder for us and just being aware of that. And then the surfboard and choosing which surfboard, those are our tools. Those are the tools that we're bringing with us into 2026. So community support, awareness of the astrological tides and our strengths.

Right. The other thing I asked is, is there anything you have to think about in terms of like, mindset? And he said, well, yeah, whether or not I'm going to live, I mean, you have to be. He said he has to psych himself up to actually go out and ride those waves. So it's not as dire as that for us, but we are choosing life over fear. We are choosing to embrace the waves of the cosmos and meet them and decide how we want to dance with them, how we want to ride them, how we want to meet the energy, energetic frequency of the year ahead.

So we are, we're making a really amazing choice. You just by being here, are already choosing to embrace the moment and ride the waves. Okay, so that's what we're doing here together now. We've been working behind the scenes with the astrologers for a couple of months now, really deciding how we want to organize this event. Normally in all the events in the past, we walk through the energies chronologically.

This year presents a unique challenge because the energies are so dynamic and also very all encompassing. They are coloring the entire time period that we're going to be living through, not just this year, but for many years. So what we've done is we've given you a download that lists all the most important transits chronologically. So you're, you have that and you can have that with you. That was given to you in the email that you received when you signed up.

We're also going to put it in the chat and if you're watching the replay, it's below this replay video. So we'll make sure you have that download. But what we just, what we landed on is that we are really creating a story for, for this year. And each astrologer has planned a chapter of that story. So they're putting their installment of how they're reading the year, why they're reading it that way, and most importantly, what they think you can do about these energies or do with these energies.

And so each astrologer has prepared a chapter. We're putting together a story. Another idea, if you like the analogies, is we're putting together a mixtape and there's a song for the year. And so each astrologer has written a song for you and we're putting together a mixtape that you can enjoy and really get a feel for the year ahead. All right, and this is going to be happening over the next two days.

So we have four astrologers today, we have three astrologers tomorrow. And let's see. All right, so how are you guys feeling? Are you good? Are you feeling good? All right. The other thing, and we're going to get to the astrologers here in just a second, I promise, is that this event marks off our promotional period for the Inner Circle. So many of the astrologers who are speaking here tonight are Inner Circle astrologers or guides or teachers, mentors who will be with us in the year ahead.

And any Inner Circle members who are here, please say hi in the chat. But if you've been wanting a community, if you've been craving consistent teaching and consistent support, and if you want to go deeper in your chart reading skills, this is absolutely the time to consider joining us in the Inner Circle. This is our membership. We've had it for about seven years now. And it was really created with this desire to create a community where people could practice speaking astrology, where we could tune in consistently to the cosmic waves, and where we can learn how to read our charts, most importantly so that we can live what we came here to live.

The expression that is uniquely yours, that is yours to contribute, that is written into your astrological chart. And so if you're thinking that that sounds good, now's a great time to check it out. You can go to astrologyhub.com join now. Membership is 50% off right now. All tiers, monthly, annual and lifetime. So go check that out. We'll talk about it a little bit more later. And I'll hang out at the end for a Q and A if you do have any questions about it.

Okay, a few more things, I promise. This event is two hours. The recordings are free for all through Monday at midnight. Or if you do decide to become an Inner Circle member, or already, if you're already a member, you get lifetime access to the recordings. We're going to take one five minute break about halfway through. If you have questions for the astrologers, put them in the chat and we'll answer as many as we can.

No personal questions about your chart because we can't do that. We're not doing like individual readings. But you. If you have more, more general questions that are applicable to everybody, we are doing a raffle, so you have the chance. There will be four lucky winners here tonight who can win a SMATTERING of gifts and prizes. So if you want your name in the. In the consideration for the raffle, write in the chat your first and last name, and you have to stay here for the whole event.

You have to be here to claim your prize. So put your first and last name in. We're raffling off a magic dates report, a signed copy of my upcoming book, Life by the Stars, an annual membership to the inner circle, and something else that I can't remember right now, but we'll get there. Okay. All right, let's. Oh, I see a lot of people that want to win some prizes.

Awesome. Okay, you guys, let's bring our astrologers on the screen. If you guys can take your. Your video. Put your video on and your audio on. We're going to introduce you to the astrologers here who are our guides. All right, I'm just missing Rebecca. There she is. Yay. Amazing. Yes. Okay, so with us here tonight, we have Gary Katon, hermetic practitioner, astrologer, and author. We have Rebecca Gordon, renowned astrologer and author.

We have Mark Lawrenson, astrologer and co founder of the Sydney Astrolog Astrology School. And Adam Sommer, astrologer, writer, and celebrated podcast host. This is an amazing lineup. We're so excited to hear from all of you. So can we just start by getting your sun, moon, and rising? It's just always fun. So, Adam, sun, moon, and rising. Gemini, sun, Scorpio moon, Virgo rising. Virgo rising. Okay, Mark, Aries sun, Libra moon, full moon, eclipse, baby.

And zero degrees Cancer rising. Amazing. All right, Rebecca, Virgo, sun, Cancer, moon, and Leo rising. All right, I see that. Leo rising. And Gary, Aquarius rising sun and Aries and Virgo, moon. Very nice. Okay, so tomorrow we are going to have Gemini, Brett, Penny Thornton, and Adam Ellenboss. So make sure that you mark your calendar to join us tomorrow as well. And without further ado, let's start diving in.

So, Mark, we're going to start with you, and your chapter or song title is. Yeah. You want me to tell you what it is? Yeah, go for it. Go for it. Yes. I'm feeling that. I'm feeling the shift already. I really am. I know there's the last five days of Neptune in Pisces. We're going into Aries on the 26th of January, and I'm in early Aries. My son's in very early Aries, so I'm feeling this shift already.

I. My song title is the courage to release and to Rise. Okay, so I'VE got a mixture of a few things that I want to talk about that has that involved. Yeah, so, so essentially the way we're going to do this is the astrologers are going to introduce their title, they're going to explain why they're saying that, and then we're going to have a little discussion between the astrologers about that chapter contribution.

So Mark, go ahead. And Mark's going to start us off here with. Sure, yeah, let's go. Well, the release is obviously the Neptune. Neptune is always going to be about release in some kind of way. And Neptune is finishing up a 14 year cycle, you know, 40 years sojourn in Pisces and it is starting all over again. It is about to start in Aries. And what we have to do here with Neptune, Neptune, I don't want to say it's been asleep in Pisces because I think that might be taking it a bit too far.

But I think we have to get our faces out of our phones. Neptune in Pisces. Don't you think Neptune in Pisces has tended to distract us a little bit too much? It's a little bit like what's going on in the world, what's happening outside of us. It's kind of a little bit like, oh, that's sad, but what's happening on Instagram. And I think that's a very Neptune in Pisces thing.

And now moving into aries, moving into 0 degrees Aries. And of course Saturn's going to be joining it pretty soon after. We've got this rush of energy, this full on impetus of energy, because zero degrees Aries, you know, it's a powerful point. It's the beginning of the zodiac. It's the Aries point. It is the, it's the key in the ignition. You know, it's a launching pad. So something is going to be shot out into the world.

Where it goes and where it's going to actually land, who knows? But we have to in our own way. We have to wake up. I did that talk with you, Amanda, just a couple of days ago, where I called it an epiphany. Remember I talked about people not only waking up, but people coming to a realization of why they're actually here. Neptune is always going to be taking us down to a place, our essential selves, our true selves, our soul selves, if you want to call it that.

And Saturn is going to be joining it. Saturn's going to be there between February 15 and 22 @ 0 degrees Aries with Neptune, and it makes a really strong conjunction on the 20th, on the 20th of February. Okay? And so we've got Saturn doing the same thing. And so Neptune is dissolving. Neptune is getting us back to our essential selves, our true selves, that part of us that understands our oneness with everything, our oneness with life.

And Saturn is trying to come back into this land, this world, this planet. And Saturn's all about mastery. Saturn's very much about who we are as humans, who we are on the planet in this kind of form. And it works through a sense of us being able to concrete something or structure something. So what I want to say is that's a feeling of us trying to, in 2026, to realize that our essential selves and our human selves in some kind of way, do have to come into some kind of congruence.

We have to understand ourselves as souls living a human experience here. And that Neptune energy and that Saturn energy is really coming into a place of aligning us with our contract, basically aligning us with, you know, our spiritual contract while we've actually come here in the first place, and coming into a place of really taking charge of this, taking responsibility for this, getting on track with this. And it might actually take us way outside of what we know or what we hang onto.

To me, it feels like putting down the backpack. I don't think we realize how much we carry on an everyday level. You know, we're carrying on our backs. All our anxiety, all our worries, you know, all our survival mechanisms are all in our backpack that we carry every single day. And not only do we carry our own stuff, we're also carrying other people's stuff as well. We're carrying our children's stuff, we're carrying people at work stuff.

We're carrying other people's stuff that we don't need to carry. And we're kind of feeling, in a way now, Saturn is actually the good thing about Saturn and Neptune. How they really agree is that they both cull. They're really good colors. Neptune is culling on the level of letting go of all the things that aren't aligned with us, essentially. And Saturn's a really good color because Saturn hates waste.

Saturn's very much like, is this working for you? And if it's not working for you, let's get it out. You know, let's. Let's divide it. Let's put the barrier down between them. Saturn's really good at that. So there's a culling going on, a letting Go of all the things that we hold onto or all the things that we carry that we don't need to anymore, we don't need to weigh ourselves down anymore.

We don't need to be, you know, lugging stuff around with us on an everyday basis. That if we really sat down and we really looked at what it was, it's kind of a little bit like, what am I. Yeah, what am I doing with all this stuff that I know is not working for me yet? I'm holding onto it. I'm holding onto it on a daily basis. And I think it's about.

I think it's me. You know, I've identified with it now. And that's why I'm thinking we're going to be changing so much in 2026 because we've identified with the old version of ourselves that really have very little to do with who we are. And we're coming into a new version of ourselves, a brand new version of ourselves that feels lighter and it feels more on point, it feels more on track and it feels more purposeful.

And there is something about this energy I feel that's going to actually take people down the road of what they truly want and who they truly are. I want to say, get out of the way of guarantees. Get out. How's this going to look? How much money am I going to make out of this? You know, that feeling of I need to see the endpoint, get out of that, throw that away.

That's, you know, that's part of the backpack. You know, you can let that go. Because 2026 is about venturing into territory that we've never been in before because we've got Pluto on one side, we've got Uranus on the other side. Sextiling. And so Uranus goes into Gemini at the end of April. Pluto's already in Aquarius. And so we've got these really radical planets that really want to stretch us way, way outside of the norm, way outside of what we know.

And these two planets came together in the mid-60s, when we know what happened in the mid-60s. The mid-60s just blew the world apart. The-50s and the early-60s was very conservative. It was very much keeping everything very family oriented and very sweet and very good and very religious. The mid-60s came and the world just turned on its head. And so here we have these two planets in Trine with each other now, sextiling Neptune and Saturn for a shorter period of time in the middle.

And they're actually saying this shift that's going to be happening in 2026 isn't going to be light. It's not going to be a walk in the park. It's going to turn the world on its head. It really will. And we've got to be ready to be turned on our heads. We really do. And we can be turned on our heads in a really positive way, because a lot of us need to be turned on our heads.

We truly do. A lot of us need to be shaken up, to be turned around, to actually go, that is your life, not that that is where you need to go. So it's such a. To me, it's so, so positive. As I said, I'm feeling it already. I'm feeling it in my system already, because my son's going to get the full brunt of this over the next couple of years, particularly with Neptune, of course.

But I love. I really like the feeling of this out there in the world. The world, you know, what we're seeing at the moment. How far can you pull an elastic band before it's going to snap? That's what's happening out there in the world at the moment. Things are going to be changing big time. We know that these two planets come together. We're talking about Saturn and Neptune come together every 36 years.

Okay? That's this synodic cycle together. So the Last time was 89, when Europe completely turned around, completely changed. Walls came down, and everyone came together. 1917 was the Russian Revolution and Lenin took over. And 1953 was a passing of the baton between Stalin. Stalin died, and then they passed it on to Khrushchev, which changed the face again of Russia. So there's going to be something out there that's going to change the face of the world as well.

And it's going to be up to us in our own lives, in our own personal lives that need to do our version of this, that need to do our mini version of this. And it has to be changed in a way that is going to be working for us. That makes us feel good. And we're in the driver's seat of this. We are. Nothing's happening to us. Everything that we're doing is we are still going to be able to make choices around where we want to go in the midst of this change.

So I like to put everybody in a positive place with this because I believe it deserves to be. I just need to reflect to everybody for a minute because I. I sit in a very unique seat where I get to talk to all of you guys a lot and over many, many years, I. We haven't heard a message like this in a very long time. Like if, maybe not ever, that at least that astrology hub has existed where there is so much potential and possibility and so much on each one of us as individuals to really step up and step into our calling and really start contributing.

And what I'm hearing you say, Mark, is that, you know, a lot of us have been doing work, doing the work and for a lot, you know, a lot of years and years of years of shadow work and deep work and therapy and healing and, you know, all these different things. And, and it sounds to me, and correct me if I'm wrong, like you're saying we're. We can.

It's not that we're going to stop doing things to better ourselves, but we can step more into the proactive actually doing of our mission, of our calling and not be so weighed, weighed down and bogged down by the things that we've been carrying. Yeah. Yeah. It's about coming. It's about pulling Neptune. It's about pulling us back to, to our pure selves, to our, our essence. Zero degrees Aries is the birth.

It's the birth. It's the, it's the actual birth degree. It's the beginning. And so we're birthing, we're rebirthing. We're coming into, you know, a place where we feel almost like we're having a new life within this life. And Neptune is actually trying to get us right back. When the baby is born, the baby is just essence, just pure essence in a body, you know, and it's coming in on that level.

And so there is something about us that has to, in our own way, shed a lot of the stuff that we've been holding onto or carrying around with us that we know is not doing us any good. We know that and try our best to get down to our purest essential selves outside of the stuff outside of us that keeps us, that keeps us stuck. And we've identified with it.

You know, we've created a personality around our issues. We've created a personality around our craft. You know, I'm the girl who never gets the right man in my life. I'm the guy who never makes the money I want to make. You know, we've actually, we've actually labeled ourselves that. And so we've got to, in our own way, we've got to get rid of those labels. We've got to get rid of all the stuff we've identified with and come back down to 0 degrees Aries, come back to 0 degrees Aries, the start of everything.

And then we have to lead our own way for that period of time when Saturn's there. Because Saturn's only going to be there for a short period of time. A few weeks, it's at 0 degrees Aries for a week, but then it's going to be hanging around Neptune for a little bit longer than that. But with Saturn involved, Saturn is always about you coming into an understanding or a feeling of, I'm here for a reason.

Saturn knows that you're here for a purpose. You just didn't land here and you have to make do. Saturn knows you've come here with a plan in mind. You've come here with a mountain to climb.

You've come here with a mission. Saturn knows that. And that's what's going to have to come into the picture. A feeling of working from that pure rebirth state with nothing, with nothing, with no extraneous carry on.

And then start your. Put one foot in front of each other and start your mountain from there. Start climbing your mountain from there. Rebecca, that sounds familiar, huh? We were just talking about that in the inner circle. We literally were imagining the mountain and we were taking the steps up the mountain, so. Good. Okay. Adam, Gary or Rebecca, anyone want to contribute or add anything to this element of the year, mainly around Saturn and Neptune?

Gary, want to go? Yeah, yeah, I'll be happy to. I mean, I'm, you know, it's like when you get the pep talks before the football games. The, the common response is, I'm ready to run through a brick wall, you know, like, let's go koolaid. I just. But yeah, there's a few things and, and I think the astrology was covered perfectly, but some, A few things come to mind.

Joseph Campbell's been on my mind a lot lately, and he was a guy with like a triple Kazimi and the first deacon of Aries. So he's like that early Aries guy. And he said, you have to let go of the life you planned to find, the life that's waiting for you. Like that was one of his things, right? And he also said, and this is the part I really loved.

Mark said, you know, hey, hey, it's not over there, it's over there. You know, like that kind of. Imagine if the universe was trying to tell you that, like, literally. Right. How would that happen? What would that look like? Jung said that even seeming disasters when viewed from the lens of the self, which is much bigger than we can really ever truly comprehend that even seeming disasters could be productive and purposeful because they're doing exactly what he said.

Hey, you. Not there. Over there. That's the whole point, you know? And so I think one thing that I would, you know, if it doesn't. If you fall down out of the gate, it's okay, get back up and keep going. It's not a sprint. You know, we got the whole year. And the other thing that Joseph Campbell said was, you know, if you. If you see a path, it's not your path, you know, so you kind of got in.

You kind of got to get into the weeds a little bit if you really want to find that authentic. You. Yeah, you're gonna find it in the weeds, actually, you know, and it's going to be a little weird because you're going to be going, oh, crap, I'm totally lost. And you're gonna go, oh, my God, I found it. Yeah, you're gonna have to go through stuff because. Yeah, exactly.

Because what I. What I feel, Gary, is that where people are going to be heading and where the world wants to head is. Is totally different. It's totally new. It's going to really surprise us. And so we're going to have to go through weeds, we're going to have to go through terrain that we've never been through before to discover what's on the other side of that. Yeah. And I'm not gonna.

I'm not gonna ruin it, but that idea of we're where we never been before, I got. I got some stuff to back that up, dude. So it's. I love that you open with that. Yeah. All right, so somebody else, because I could just. I'm ready to run through a wall, man. Well, I like to comment on the Neptune and Pisces correlation with our 14 year history with social media and smartphones, because if you remember, it was in 2009 when the first smartphones came out.

So it was a little bit pre. Running the ingress into Pisces, but the popularity of the apps and even podcasts, like Gary and I were podcasting back in 2009, and so I had the experience. I'm sure you did as well, Gary. Where no one even knew what the hell a podcast was until about 2012 or a little bit afterwards. And so our media has changed us significantly. But the thing that's invisible, that affects all of us in these ways that are so profound, is the algorithm and the great tangle that it creates with our attention and the information that we're getting.

And like it's been such a confusing 14 years of just like, how did we get here? What is going on? Like, it's hard just to do sense making anymore. And so I'm optimistic as well in a way that may surprise some of you. But like, I don't think there's any stopping this AI train. Like the singularity in all of this is inevitable at this point. And so there's going to be an interesting emergence where we're not like staring at our phones anymore.

It's actually in the next 14 years, a lot of people are going to choose to integrate it into their biology. A lot of people are going to wear it in glasses. A lot of people are going to have it in their ears. You know, I think that interspecies communication could even be possible in the next decade. And so like, what does all that mean as far as like our attention and our engagement with our environment and how fast we learned?

And you know, like, there's something that like we can't see because it's exactly what the singularity is. We cannot see beyond the event horizon. And I just, like, a lot of people are really afraid of it for good reason. A lot of people are very optimistic about it. I think the reasonable relationship here is that it's inevitable and it's a huge part of the 36 year cycle of Neptune and Saturn that's opening.

It's very novel, it's new and, and I'm not going to pretend to know exactly how it plays out, but I am excited about it and so I'll add to the optimism. And I won't be the first to become a cyborg either. I'll just say that it's not going to be my role. Oh, gosh. Rebecca, do you want to say anything at this point? Oh, you're muted, my dear.

Yeah, I mean, it's really a great segue into what I'll be speaking about though. I'll just say for sure this feels like perhaps the most reset of a moment that we've ever lived through and perhaps in hundreds and hundreds of years. And I agree it's sort of the unmanifest. We can't imagine what's coming next. It's like perhaps something beyond electricity, beyond what we could envision on any level.

And I do think that also, you know, we've been very groomed to just the way things have always been and that's the way it's going to be. And it's a complete flip script right now because it's not going to be the way it's always been for sure. And it does seem like also, yeah, 2025 was sort of touching on these themes, and it gets louder and louder. Now, what you were speaking about, Mark, from 2026 into 2027, it just seems these themes seem to grow.

So it seems like we'll have to also get in the habit of living more courageously, perhaps. Yeah. Okay, you guys, so good. Thank you for kicking us off with this incredible orientation around Saturn and Neptune and what that means for each of us. And it's not just 2026. I'm hearing you say, Rebecca. This is. This is a turning point that is going to set the stage for many years to come.

Yeah. Yeah. Okay. We're going to announce the first raffle winner before we go to Rebecca. So the first raffle prize is our magic dates report, which is an electional astrology report where you get different dates throughout the year that are hotspots for certain things. So if you need to have a really important conversation, if you need to sign a contract, if you want to look for a new career, it's all laid out, and you can actually integrate it into your personal calendar on your device.

That so that one. And it's the value of this is $37. And the winner of the magic dates report is Kathleen Scott. So, Kathleen, if you're here, let us know in the chat, and then also you can email supportstrologyhub.com to claim your prize. All right, Congratulations. Congratulations, Kathleen. All right, let's go to Rebecca. What is your chapter installment, your song title for 2026? Well, it is formless to form, so we are building out of the liminal right now.

You know how when you listen to a song, sometimes there's this really dramatic long pause before the first instrumentation, and then it just is such, like, a punctuation mark. Well, I feel like we're there right now, where I've been at that long pregnant pause before the first punctuation, and that is what's coming. So I wanted to kind of talk about that process as we're in the silence before the sound and how we can also best navigate that personally and globally, because, yes, as above, so below, but also as below, so above.

So I was thinking we would speak into where we're at now. Well, should I go into the more detailing theme now? Yes. Okay. Yeah, go for it. Yeah. Why don't you do some place making? So why don't you kind of put us here first contextually at this key moment? Which is February 20th. If you don't have that marked on your calendar, please mark February 20th on your calendar.

That is perhaps the most key moment of our century, because Saturn, the planet of structure, gives form to Neptune, the planet of vision, in the sign of Aries. And not only do they do that in Aries, but 0° of Aries in English, for all of you folks out there, what that means is this is your personal reset movement. Now, whenever a new pattern starts, like whenever somebody's born, you know, the first things that happened when you're out of the womb are.

Have, like, in very strange level of impact much more than they should because they happen first. Okay? So I just want us to think about that for a moment. The things that happen to you when you were 1, 2 and 3 and 4 are more impactful sometimes than then. Things happen later, the first imprints. So what we're doing right now in January 20th, essentially it is a collective sort of rebirth.

And we're going to look at that through history and make a commitment about what we're doing with that right now. Saturn and Neptune have met in Aries before, but they have not met at the 0 degree point in perhaps thousands and thousands of years. I have not seen one. So what we can expect right now at that point is what you do, personally, I would say, and what's happening in the world, you want to look out the window, make observations, listen to what's going on, and perhaps imprint the sound you make.

What you create, what you say around January 20th and that week following will perhaps be setting the pillars of the temple for your years to come. And it's a choice. As astrologers, we're known to predict the future. But I'd also want to reframe that right now as like, what if. Let's take on the Aries mode here. What if we are also creating and curating the future by the marks that we make around the 0 degree point?

So if there is a time where, as below. So above is more relevant, I would say it's in January, because here's where our actions are compounded. The resonance is so strong. I guess I'd start with that. So, like, just to check what you're doing that week, what you're doing that day, think about, like, right now, Rebecca, right this week, because today's January 20th. So you're talking. Oh, my God, I'm so sorry.

I'm so sorry. I said. I meant February 20th. Okay, February. Okay. I was like, whoa, wait. Oh, my gosh. Okay. I'm sorry about that. That's okay, don't worry. Okay, so February 20th, March. February 20th on your calendar, please. Yes, sorry, but link out January because certainly this is the meeting of Saturn and Neptune at the 0 degree point of Aries. And what you're doing around that time will certainly predicate and set the tone for perhaps a decade or longer.

Like this is a pattern making time, if there is one. So I wanted to kind of show you that through history a bit so you can see the gravitas and then sort of ground us in this moment. All right, does that sound good? Okay, so we're gonna start with, we're gonna start with the Axial Age. We're gonna go back to the year 593 BC when Saturn and Neptune met in Aries, right in the middle of the Axial Age.

And these are all hinge pins of consciousness. So we are in a major hinge pinch of consciousness right now where we redefine what we're actually doing here. In that one we moved from a tribal worldview into a new moral consciousness. So into the sense of, you know, from the sense of worshipping polytheism, everything outside of nature, the sky, to what if it's interior? And we learned about Buddhism, Confucianism, Lao, Socrates, Hebrew prophets, all of this emerged.

So we started to see this interiorization of moral consciousness and ethical guides to follow in life. So this was a huge shift. I mean it's known as the Axial Age. And that's a time that Saturn and Neptune first met in Aries. And Aries is a sign of the mind, very much like I think, therefore I am, what am I doing here on Earth. So it's really quite important when you see planets pile up in Aries, especially at the 0 degree point.

And now let's just fast forward to 555 where we're here going from this ancient plural cosmos into a medieval unified consciousness. So this is sort of like what's collapsing here is pagan philosophy and multiplicity. And what's consolidating is Christianity as the main state ontology. This is huge. And this is happening in around 555 that Saturn Neptune and then we move to 1380, the next Saturn Neptune in Aries.

Now we're looking in Aries and this is the era when we move from the medieval God centered consciousness into a human centered Renaissance consciousness. Where we're coming from, we're going into reviving the Platonic text. Her prime minister Justice. All of this is coming back into the scene and there's A dignity of the individual mind. Okay, last one. Because these are the huge changes. Now we go from the Renaissance to what's called the Enlightenment.

The Enlightenment. There are some problems with that, but that's what they like to call it. So basically, here we move from a sacred and sold world to a mechanistic reality. And this was the next time in 1703. So these marked the Axial Age, the beginning of the ancient world and philosophy, the Middle Ages, the Renaissance. Like, these huge markers, really, of where consciousness is localized. Is it with the church?

Is it with the government? And how are we codifying ourselves? Like, ultimately, it's what we aspire to. Neptune and what are the daily practices, the principles, and the Saturnian notions we're gonna live by to back up the Neptunian dream? And that seems to get redefined in all of these periods fully. So this time is like. I mean, maybe this is sort of like a big exclamation mark on what Mark was saying, but, like, this time is probably the power of all of those rolled into one, because not only is Saturn meeting Neptune in Aries, but It's at the 0 degree point, which is called the world axis.

And it's perhaps one of the most important points in our whole zodiac. And then I think there's something else to mention about this that there is right now. We are coming from, like, this sort of end of a systems process where meaning has been lost in a lot and, you know, politics has turned into this whole pageantry, and there's a lot of sense of loss of meaning all across the board at the end of Pisces.

Loss of faith in institutions, loss of meaning in everything. And I'm interested right now in that silence in that space and how we're treating it between Pisces and Aries, because this is perhaps the most important womb of creation, and we're kind of swimming in that right now when we are in this sort of decoherence and fragmentation and everything's connecting to everything. We've definitely, you know, put the toothpaste out of the tube too much more than we can handle with AI and everything.

But we're at that point. So I think it's going to be interesting right now is how we treat the space and how we align our actions personally with. With higher aspirations. And it will. It will probably mean a new playbook completely to live our lives by. What was I going to say on the. In terms of, like, what's rolling out after February 20th? I would say, like, that is when you want to probably start ultimately going blue sky into this sort of creation mode.

What is actually important to me. Let's take away all of the extraneous in life and pare down, you know, to that one seed, that one sand of what truly matters. And it's a good moment to let that grow as that will have a long lifespan for decades in your life. And I think collectively, yeah, we just want to be paying attention to around February 20, what is happening and be mindful that we're getting fed, you know, this constant onslaught of war and horrors.

But there's also another channel, there's also many other stations here. And what's going to be important is where you cast your gaze as well, because that's the consciousness in itself is where you are, where you are casting that gaze, where your energy is going, where your attention is flowing. That is vital. So be mindful of that around this time and perhaps, you know, forever, but especially in this pattern making moment that we're all finding ourselves in.

And in a way, that's a tincture that sets up to kind of dissolve throughout the year and perhaps many years to come. Yeah, we have been in a Piscean collapse of sorts, I guess. And that happened right before the 555 conjunction too, with the fall of Rome. And it was a whole collapse of order and structure and then a new consolidation. So it feels like we're in this period where a new strange attractor is starting to form itself.

Yet it hasn't formed yet. But I also want to put the power back into you and all of us that it is. What do you want to form? We're not just these passive onlookers. Like, we are the programming, right? And we are the viewer. We are all of this. So I think there's a lot of. There's a lot more power than an agency that we may have than we think we do.

Especially with this Aries potency right now, you know, where consciousness comes back to the individual away from this sort of Piscean diffuseness and institutional Capricorn awareness. So there's certainly a changing of hands. Yeah. And we're in this sort of liminality. Like a big word I was writing to you before was this liminal. It's between two worlds, literally. And that womb space, that zero point is perhaps also the most potent time to really upset your personal pillars of the temple and deem what's important to you in life.

So I guess I'd start there. I think that's about 10 minutes or so. Start there. We'll just, we'll just. That's like the little appetizer for the rest of the year, right? This is. This is huge. And, and, and what would you say? And this is for all of you guys, and maybe we can start with Rebecca. But you've. You've touched on this a little bit. When people hear things like this, there can be a tendency to go into fear of what these big, huge things are.

Right. I mean, when you're hearing things like there's an entirely new playbook being written and we are being completely reborn, and, you know, all these things that. They're huge. These are huge statements. You know, I have a friend, she may be here tonight. She was asking me, you know, from your perspective, do you feel like the astrologers are. Are over playing 2026, underplaying 2026, or, you know, like, what's your read on it?

And I was like, they are absolutely speaking with complete certainty because they can see the patterns. If anything, they're underplaying it, which is, you know, like, it. It is huge. It's as huge as. As they're saying that it is. So what do you guys, like, how are you even personally looking towards a year of. Of such epic bigness? And, and how are you approaching it? And how do you.

How do you advise your clients to approach it, especially when they start to feel kind of fearful about that? Are you asking us generally? Yeah. Yeah. I mean, Rebecca, you just. What I heard you say. Go ahead. Yeah, Yeah. I mean, I, you know, I want to. I always try to instill a sense of accountability and taking responsibility for what we're initiating. Knowing our why. And astrology is so brilliant.

Right. It gets us to know ourselves and our why so we can initiate with more coherence in the world. Well, I'm curious what other people have to say about this, because certainly things like this big can induce fear. I personally also see it as. There can be an incredibly positive turn here, too. So. But, yeah, I'm curious about the rest of it. Well, and it's also kind of like we were talking about in the beginning.

Like, if we're surfers and we're looking out and there's a big swell, we can either go, oh, man, that's scary, and hide, or we can go, hey, let's go play. Let's play on those waves and see what we can do. Mark, what would you say in our reading context with a client? I'd be very conscious of people who had planets in aspect, particularly to Neptune and to Saturn.

So we're talking about people who've got planets in very early cardinal. If you've got planets in early fire, they're going to get trined. So that could be helpful in a way. But if you had planets in early Aries, in early Cancer, in early Capricorn or early Libra, I would be more conscious of allowing that person to make space for themselves. I go Neptune first. I would allow them to, to come to a place where they can accept who they are and where they are right here and right now.

You know, they don't have to be any better, they don't have to do any more. You know, that place, that place is, it's a, it's a very, you know, it's like a template. That place is a really nice template to work from. And so I would encourage them to come to a place of not having to do anything to start off with. You don't have to be anything to start off with.

And then I would say from that place, from that quieter place or that softer place is just sit with yourself and ask yourself, why am I here? Why am, why am I on this planet? Because Saturn will actually start to want to take over. Saturn will actually start to go, okay, that could be the direction that you want to go from this state of that, from that template, from that beautiful place of not thinking, this is what I should do.

This is what's going to make my father proud. This is where the money is. No, no, no, don't go there. Be happy, be quiet, be safe with where you are right here and right now. Don't put any pressure on yourself. And then ask yourself why you're here. That's probably where I would go first with, with a client with it. Beautiful Adam Gary. And you don't have to answer that question specifically if you don't want.

You can also reflect on some of the things Rebecca was sharing. Thank you for teaching me about the Axial age conjunction, Rebecca. I wasn't aware of that one. I am with the big one, with Neptune, Pluto, et cetera. But it's part of my answer, I think, meditating on the big cycles, processionals stuff. Also these 36 year cycles with the outers and Saturn are so essential. The deeper you go with that to realize not how insignificant we are in all of our problems, but just how majestic the whole thing is.

Like we don't know enough to worry. We can study astrology our whole life, read every single book, and it still doesn't give us the allowance to freak out about what's coming. And I'll say this. I've been doing astrology almost 20 years, and every single year starts like this. There's always a big transit. There's always a big something coming that everyone has something to say about. And I will say this year is unique.

But every year, in my experience, it has been this way. And it's just so important to have ground state to be open to how it's gonna, you know, play out. But most importantly, and this is a point Rebecca was making, how do you personalize it? What is your reset? What is the pattern that you want to work with? Where does it fall in your chart? Because, like, that is how these cycles do work.

And so fear has no place in this study. That's my big message. You know, just get excited about it. I'll learn from them. Yeah. One of the things that I always encourage people if in a scary situation, is that long before the Axial age, we survived flying by the seat of our pants for millennia with our instincts, and those speak to us through our body, you know, not in our head.

And so remembering to trust your instincts and when something feels off, instead of trying to rationalize yourself. No, no, it's probably okay, yada, yada, yada. Okay, what's going on here? Why does something feel off? What is it that I'm feeling? Be curious about the instincts that you get. And. And the other way, too. When you get turned on about something like follow your bliss, as Joseph Campbell said, those are feelings, those aren't.

And so either way, like, you know, the best thing to do with fear is to approach it and to be curious about it, because oftentimes you'll find out, a, it's not nearly as bad as you were thinking it was. And B, you'll find out that you have a lot of inf. You have a lot of information coming to you from channels you've pretty much not been paying attention to because you're inundated with all of this stuff from the phone and everything else, you know, so that's usually when I, you know, when people are.

Are freaking out a little bit, I try to remind them, a breathe. Like Mark said, be here now. Accept yourself as you are now. And who you are right now is a being who is a long desire, long line, a descendant of a long line of people who made it through all kinds of stuff, you know, and the way that we made it through is by trusting our instincts more than anything.

Yeah. It pays to be smart, pays to have a plan. It pays to it. It pays to remember where you put your attention. And, you know, the. The last thing I would say is, I love that. That metaphor of, like, where is your gaze? Because, you know, for the alchemists. The alchemist knew long before. Yeah. Quantum physics says, oh, like observing an experiment can have an effect on the outcome.

Well, the alchemist would say, duh, we've been doing that for hundreds of years, bro. You know, like, you guys finally caught up, right? And so, yeah, the other thing is that where you put your gaze matters, but where you put your gaze, it catalyzes a process, and there's a map for that process. And that's just a little teaser for what I'm going to be talking about, like the.

The map of the alchemical process. Anybody else want to reflect on what Rebecca shared about the imprint moment and the importance of the time period right after February 20th? And also, I love what you were saying, Rebecca, about the. The importance of this time period between now and then. Then in the silence. It's just, you know, if you've carried a child, you know, like, every. Every trimester is important, but it's really important at the end of the pregnancy, you.

You know that that baby's absorbing every single thing that you're listening to. Obviously, everything you're eating, it's a sponge, and it's absorbing everything. So if we're thinking of ourselves as little babies in the womb that are about to be born, being very, very mindful of how we're treating ourselves, how we're talking to ourselves, what we're nurturing ourselves with in this silent moment before the actual birth. But does anyone else want to add anything to that?

Because I know we're going to be getting to some transits that are happening later in the year later. But this first part of this year is obviously extraordinarily important. The only thing I would add is just how Neptune and Saturn have been so close for 12 months. So it's been like a germination for the entire past year. I don't think we're unfamiliar with the themes exactly. We kind of know what they are.

They already moved into areas once. And so we kind of see it. But the sprout, the dicotyledon hasn't showed up yet. That's the way I see it. And so it is a big template moment of like, yeah, where is your gaze? What is the focus? Energy goes where attention goes. And so, boom, it finally happens then. And then, you know, we'll check in 36 years later. We'll see.

We'll see what Happens to add to that. Yeah, we have been primed with a lot of Saturn, Neptune and cahoots working together. So our visions have been pruned. Like Saturn has strewn away pieces of the Neptune vision. It's been pared down, and then we've built something that got dissolved by Neptune. We've all been through a lot of sandcastles getting taken by the waves in the last year. So maybe we are more clear on certain parts of selves.

And what's a no? It's a yes. And through that process of some disillusionment, it seems like. Hold that thought, Gary. Do you all feel like you're starting to get clarity? Do you feel like the culling or the paring down that's happened over the last year with some of the maybe things you were going toward that maybe got taken away or you got disillusioned around? Are you starting to feel more clear?

I would love to hear in the chat. And maybe this is also a good time to kind of like, do a review of, Go through January, February, March of the months of last year and see, like, the balloons that grew and what got popped and what deflated and just to kind of get a sense of what remained as valuable. I'm looking at the chat. Yeah, a lot. A lot of people getting more clarity, for sure.

In terms of. In terms of the imprint, I mean, focus on what you want. And you know what? It's okay if you don't know. If you don't know, then allow yourself to dream. Give yourself some space to dream. If you don't know, if, you know, focus on that and pick one thing and really focus on it. And, you know, in that intentionality, that's. It's like when you're planting a seed, you know, like, that's what this is.

It's a seed moment. It's probably the. The mother of all seed moments. The mother of all seed moments. I mean, I think if anything, you guys just. We've heard this word a lot tonight. Accountability, responsibility. You're more powerful than you realize. You're here for a purpose and a reason. This is the time to really claim that and really step into it. And I'm just hearing that over and over from what you guys are saying.

Can I also mention, Amanda, that at the end of April, 25th of April, we've got Uranus moving into Gemini. So if you want clarity, that's going to do it, because Gemini is the questioner. Gemini wants an answer to everything. Gemini is not going to just be told what to do or it's in the book. Gemini is like, no, explain that to me, please. Gemini is always wanting all the nuts and bolts.

It wants everything to make sense. And so clarity is going to be a big time when Uranus is moving in, because people aren't going to be told what to do anymore. And people aren't going to be getting things just dished up to them and told. Believe that. It's like, I'm not believing that. So that's going to be rife when you run a smoothie into Gemini. And of course, it's going to make the midpoint pizza.

It's going to turn into the sextile. It's going to make a real sextile to Neptune. At that time, Saturn would have moved on a little bit, but Neptune is still there, and Pluto's on the other side. So this is when everything I believe is really, really going to bubble right up. And if you're on the back of that, if you're riding that bronco, it's going to be a ride, but it's going to be a good one, because when you're in an amusement park or when you're in a fun farm or something like that, and you have.

You have a fun ride, you get off and it's kind of like, wow, that was great. Right? Usually, like, let's do that again. Right? Yeah, exactly. Yeah. Buy another ticket for it. Exactly, yeah. Okay, you guys, how is everybody doing? We're going to take a quick break, but I just want to check in with you all. How are you? How are you receiving this? Is this helpful? What's your overarching feeling right now in terms of what you've received so far?

Really enjoying the discussion. Great. Oh, aligning. Great. I'm loving it. Very interesting. Fantastic. Super helpful. Okay. Wonderful. All right, astrologers, we're on the right track. Okay, so we are going to take five minutes. When we come back, we're going to announce the next raffle winner, and then we're going to hear Gary and Adam's stories. So, everyone, let's take five, and we'll see you back here. Yeah. At 15.

All right, cool. For me, the podcast is kind of like the marker. It's like, okay, here we are. This is what we're thinking about. This is what we're talking about. And then you go into the inner circle, and you get to go deeper. I love all of the exposure to the different astrologers. Just being able to learn from so many different people who have so many different ways of attacking the subject.

They really like the diversity in astrologers. Judith Hill, Gemini Brett, Christopher Renstrom, Gary Caton, Frank Clifford, Michael Bryan. Getting the exposure has really helped me as a practicing astrologer myself. It's helped me hone how I give readings. I do love the astrology pulse. Like those texts I love. Oh yeah, there's that quick check in and reminder. Even though I have my own thoughts in my own take, it's just so valuable to hear what other people are saying.

Having all those different voices makes me realize that my voice is valid too. I'm super busy, like working mom, two kids 12 and nine. And I'm constantly on the road driving them around, which is why I listen all the time. The mastery classes eats mastery class when I'm on tour, that is my, that's my food. Like food, like, like soul food to me. These mastery classes, taking notes, constantly playing around with charts.

It's such great educational nutrition. And then there's the hugs that are the new moon ceremonies. The new moon ceremonies. That is a non negotiable for me. It has to happen every cycle for me. Whether I can show up live or not. It's grounding. It gets me focused on what I want to be focused on. This year is my year to get out there and connect with as many other astrologers as I can.

And seeing all those faces, seeing all those faces every moon. People I may never meet in person but absolutely adore from afar because I've been watching their stories. To be an inner circle member, just to feel belong, longing. I know it sounds romanticized but. But for me it's, it's not. I look forward to each podcast, each mastery class, it each live because I know they will nourish me in a way that I cannot find from anywhere else.

Thank you for creating this amazing platform. I mean this ohana is truly a great home foreign. You guys, welcome back. We are going to keep this conversation going. I'm so happy to see that it is helpful that you're loving it, that it's interesting. I know for some of you if you're new to astrology, it's a lot like I, I applaud you for being here and for, for being curious.

Don't worry if you're not getting every little thing. Just take what is impactful for you. Like there's going to be a thread, there's going to be something that stands out that you can take with you as a golden nugget for this entire year. I can't tell you how many times People will say, I remember at the forecast event the astrologer said this and this one thing helped me through the entire year.

So just take what you can and don't worry about the rest and just feel, also feel the energy of it. Feel the energy of what the astrologers are sharing. And I just know you're getting gifts beyond what you maybe even realize at this point in time. Sometimes people go back and watch the forecast event way later in the year and go, wow, I didn't really know what it was going to be about then.

But just living through it and experiencing it unfold, it's been so helpful to have the foresight. And that's what this really gives us. This gives us foresight, it gives us awareness. And with that, we have more agency and we have more choice. So that is the biggest gift of being here. Okay, you heard from some of our Inner Circle members at the break. Thank you. To those of you who had tea times with us and shared your stories, right now is a great time to jump into the Inner Circle membership.

If you are interested in this content, kind of guidance that you're getting here tonight all year long, this is the kind of conversation we're having all year in the Inner Circle. And right now you can and actually Rebecca, Mark and Gary are all going to be upcoming astrologers in the Inner Circle. And Adam has been and we have a bonus class from Adam that you can get when you join.

There's also so during this January period, there are three bonus classes that you will get when you join. Bonus mastery classes. If you decide to join while we're on this call tonight, you will also get another bonus that is valued at $297. And that is a course we did with Michael Bryan, Georgia Stathis and Judith Hill called the Health, wealth and Fulfillment Workshop series. So you will get that.

It is worth $297. If you decide to join tonight while we're live on this call, you will also get that bonus. So right now, membership is 50% off. It's normally $74 a month. For the monthly it is $37 a month. Right now. For annual, it's normally 740 and it's 370. And for lifetime it's normally 7400. And right now it's 3, 700. So if you want to be surrounded by incredible, masterful astrologers who guide each lunar cycle, who teach mastery classes, who do new and full moon very instructional, detailed forecasts.

If you want to learn how to read charts, you are in great hands with this amazing community. So check it out. Astrology hub.com join now. Okay, next, we're going to go to the next raffle winners. We're going to choose two, and then there'll be one at the end. So the next raffle winners. The next gift is a $50 gift card. And you can put this $50 gift card towards Inner Circle membership, classes, or reports.

And the winner for this is Morris Kramer. Morris, congratulations. You can email supportstrologyhub.com and claim your $50 gift card. And the next gift is one year of the Inner Circle membership. We're gonna also raffle one more of those at the end. So this is a big one. It's worth $740, 370 right now. And this will give you access to the Inner Circle for an entire year. And the winner of this is Candy Jacobs.

Candy, congratulations. Morris, congratulations. Congratulations. Email us@supportstrologyhub.com and we will give you your gifts. And if you do have any questions about the membership, stay at the end, and I will be answering any questions that you have. And we can go into more detail on what it actually is and what you get, etc. Okay, without further ado, let's go to Gary Katon. Gary, what's, what's the story? What's, what's your story?

Well, first, I want to say welcome to the Inner Circle to Candy, and I'm going to see you in February. I'm going to be your Inner Circle guide. Yay. And we're gonna have a great time. And then I think Mark's right after, so it'll go then. Mark. Yeah. So see you soon. And thanks, Amanda. That's really, that's so cool. I, I, I'm excited for everybody who's, you know, getting the raffle stuff.

And this is just such a great time, and I'm really happy to be. I think this is, like, my fourth time, and it's as fun as it ever was. So thank you for, thank you for this opportunity to be here. So my song title is Two Hearts Beat is one, which is an actual song, if you don't know. It's like a YouTube song from way back in ancient times, you know, not quite the axial age, but.

And the reason why I chose that is because, really, the, the year is very much two things. It's, it's, it has two very different qualities, and we could, we could name these qualities in alchemical terms, the fixed and the volatile. And, and the, the goal in alchemy is to Take these opposites and unite them. And from this union of opposites to create a third thing. And that third thing, which you've heard over and over and over again, is a new you and a new world.

And so that's, that's basically what I want to share with you is like, and I went through all this by the seat of my pants, kind of like I was telling you, like, hey, you could really just trust your instincts. I know, because I did it. I mean, I literally became an astrologer because I hitchhiked around the country and got some tarot cards. And then I had a dream, like, literally.

And then later I went back and I realized there's actually, there was actually like a pattern here. And I learned how to teach the pattern. And so that's what I'm going to be sharing with you. So two hearts beat is one. The fixed and the volatile are literally. So if we think about, we start the year, we have Jupiter and Cancer, Saturn and Pisces, Uranus and Taurus, Neptune and Pisces.

These are all water and earth signs. And in alchemy, the symbol for water and earth is a downward pointing triangle. Because all the interesting stuff about these elements is below the surface, right? So they are more feminine, more fixed in nature. You know, might be. Things might be feeling kind of swampy or stagnant or whatever. And then later in the year, particularly by the time we get to summer, completely different story.

We've got Jupiter in Leo, Saturn and Aries, Uranus and Saturn and Neptune in Aries, Uranus and Gemini and Pluto and Aquarius. So it's all fire and air signs, the alchemical symbols for which is an upward pointing triangle. Wow. If I do that, my face kind of goes away. That's kind of, that's kind of funky. Well, now I can't do it. So there's this sense of something fixed becoming volatilized.

And that's actually what we want to do in alchemy is we want to open up, you know, stuck things to keep them growing, keep them moving, you know. And if you think about it, this is actually what the zodiac is. Think about it for a second. Pisces is followed by Aries. So a water sign is followed by a fire sign, but then an earth sign follows the fire sign.

So it's like, hey man, need to chill out a little bit, eh? And, and get in the Taurus and you kind of chill out a little bit. Munch on some grass. Oh, wow. Hey, hey, there's, there's my buddy over There what's going on, man? And, you know, you get the Gemini, and then. And then things get going again, and then you get to chill out in cancer, right?

So there's this natural volatilization of the fixed energies and the fixation of the volatile energies. It's built into the system. And so this isn't anything that you don't already know, that you haven't already been doing. It's just kind of the way life works. So if I'm speaking kind of a new language to you, I wouldn't worry about it that much. But this idea of the fixed and the volatile and making the fixed volatile and the volatile fixed, that's.

That's what alchemy is about. So now, how does alchemy happen? There's basically three stages, and you can find these named by many names in many different systems from Christian mysticism. I first learned about this process in Demetra George's book about the asteroid goddesses. She talks about this in terms of the asteroids and this process of transformation. In alchemy, we use colors, so the. They're called Negretto or blackening, and then albedo whitening and then Rubetto reddening.

So it's basically about breaking something down, then having a breakthrough, breaking it open and then embodying it. And so those are the. Basically the three steps. And it always. It always works kind of the same way. So we talked about birth, you know, like this birth moment, this birth process. Think about like in the movie Star wars, right? Remember when they were. When things start, the heroes get in a trash compactor and the walls start closing in on them.

Well, isn't that what happens when you're about to be born? You're in your mama's belly and all of a sudden the walls start closing. Oh, God, I gotta get out of here. And that's what gets you to be born, is that the walls are closing in on you. And so this is a universal process. This Negretto, this contraction, this forcing of the. Some issue in your life to get you moving.

And this is. This could be how the. The early stages of. That's why I said, like, look, if you fall down out of the gate, don't worry too much about it. Because even seeming disasters can be purposeful in your life because they get you from over. Not over there, over here. And you just have to believe that and have faith in it. So this idea of, like, we're not in Kansas anymore, right?

So if we go back to the last Saturn, Neptune conjunction back in the late 80s, you know, that's when I was coming of age and there was a lot of cool rock bands at the time. So I wanted to share you this idea. We're not in Kansas anymore. There's a. There's an album title from one of my favorite bands, Soundgarden. It's called Super Unknown. Right. So alive in the super unknown.

That's. That's the idea. Like we're in the super unknown. Like we have no idea, actually. I mean, those two, those two, the most exact alignments that Rebecca. Most exact, as in like closest to zero point. I think Rebecca talked about them like 555ce and then I actually have it here. 594bc. Yeah, that's a long time ago. Like, I. I don't even know what that has to do with now necessarily.

We could talk about it if we wanted to do that, but what does it have to do with your life? Yeah, that might be a stretch, but this idea that, that we're in the super unknown. And Chris Cornell, when he was asked about that title, he said it's about birth or death, like getting flushed into something you know nothing about. And, and this brings up an idea that is foundational to, to Western esotericism is like Socrates said that the awareness of ignorance is the beginning of wisdom.

It's okay to not know. In other words, not only is it okay to not know, being aware that you don't know is the starting place of becoming wise. Because everybody needs to know. And that needing to know makes us make up things. It makes us give ourselves all kinds of stories. No, no, no. It's really this because I need to know, but the truth is I don't really know.

And so Socrates said, hey, like maybe just saying you don't know is the best starting place. So this idea of super unknown and it being okay to not know, like I said, you know, focus on what you want. Well, great. You're aware of not knowing. That's the beginning of wisdom. Now you can dream and maybe become open to. To having that awareness of what you want enter you, you know, but you have to be aware that you don't know and be okay with it first.

Right? So. And then there's another idea along the same lines that comes from Dionysus the Aeropagite. He was a mystic Christian philosopher and he called it hyper Agnoia. Now agnoia in Greek is. Means ignorance, which is not necessarily thought of to be a good thing, but hyperagnoia is. It's not super ignorance. It's it's kind of like super unknown. In other words, it's unknowing. It's. It's. It's allowing yourself to shed knowing to adopt what Zen calls beginner's mind.

Hey, I'm gonna. Yeah, I have a lot of experience. I have a lot. Mark talked about all the stories that we bring with us. I'm that guy that this always happens to. Maybe you could put that down for a minute and just not know who you are. You know, that'd be okay, too. So. And, and in particular, Dionysus said, you know, this is a. A really good way to approach God because God is literally no thing.

It's not nothing. And so this nothingness and this acceptance of nothingness and this acceptance of that I don't know what God is, and maybe I can't, maybe I can't know, and at least not with my rational mind, is the beginning of wisdom in the sense that it allows us to be filled with a more mystical kind of humble, mystical silent gnosis of like an instinctual, mystical knowing. But we have to empty ourselves to get to that kind of knowing first.

And so that's like the first step of the, The. The Negretto, the undoing. Admitting to our own ignorance where we are, I don't know, embracing ignorance and maybe even saying, hey, maybe it's okay to, like, drop whatever knowing I have, because that knowing doesn't seem to be working. Allowing yourself time to dream and asking what your soul wants. You know, in Jungian psychology, it's famously. They talk about.

The first half of life is about answering the. The. What the world wants of you. The second half of life is what the soul wants of you. So, you know, what does your soul want? I. I have a feeling it's okay to. For most of us to admit we are at least somewhat ignorant of that. And maybe, maybe that's the beginning of wisdom, is asking ourselves that question and being open to hearing more about that.

Okay, now, the second step in the alchemical transformation is the albedo. The white light comes out of the darkness. So this is like the morning star rising, you know, the darkest hours just before the dawn. And then there's this light. And for me, and I just discovered this just the other day, actually. So this is wild. The new moon on June 14th in the third deacon of Gemini.

And this is actually a mastery class that I did some time back for that you can still get, I think, right, Amanda, that I did on the Deacons and their association with the 36 minor arcana and the Tarot. It's a little bit of an explanation. You'll just have to trust me on the hows for now because it's kind of a whole class. But that deacon, the third Deacon of Gemini is associated with the Ten of Swords card.

And here's a, here's a, here's a really good example. I, I was made aware of my own ignorance about that card just the other day because I don't know why, but I, when I saw that I was thinking. I, I, well actually the thought I had was a. Knowing that oh, that's the ten of Swords. Like. Yeah, we don't want to like invoke that energy because it's like brutal.

It's like you know, ten swords and blood and like. Yeah, we'll just eh. Right. Actually something, something told me maybe that maybe you should look into that because I'm not sure that's the complete story. And what I learned about that card is that it's sunrise actually in that card. And so yes it's, it's in, in the golden dawn, they call it the Lord of Ruin. There's this, it's kind of like that, you know, what addicts call, you know, the, the, the bottom moment of, of just, you know, rock bottom and, but, and that there's nowhere but up from there, you know, if you, once you accept where you are.

And so to me I was like, wow, that's. And you know, it's not every year that the new moon in Gemini will be in that third decan. Right. And it's on a Sunday as well, which is the. So it's a sun ruled decan. It's a Sunday and it's like this sunrise in the background of this moment. And so if, if we're feeling like there's been this Piscean breakdown of you know, or, or things like this is maybe a moment that we can look at as having a positive rebirth.

Like the Phoenix rising from the ashes. That particular new moon stands out to me. And so you could even maybe work with that in terms of like ritual or, or just meditating on that card or whatever. Gary, what is the date of that new moon that is? June 14th? It's 24 degrees. 24 degrees. Gemini. Yeah. So you're seeing that as a possible turning point. Yeah. Yep. Yeah. That, that could be like where we go from sort of maybe, you know, discomfort and not knowing and you know, a lot like the walls are closing in on us and then like oh, okay, I've reached the bottom here actually.

I. I'm. I know that now. Now there's really nowhere else to go but forward. Like, you know, it's time to be born reborn. Actually. That's what. That. The image of that card is actually rebirth. It's a rebirth moment, even though it looks brutal, but oftentimes, like, that's what has to happen before we'll finally do something new. The old thing has to be literally, you know, taken from us, right?

So. So yeah, the quote in. In the Super Unknown song, you know, still alive in the super unknown, right. So Chris says, first it steals your mind and then it steals your. So that idea of like that. And he was specifically talking about, like, he was grieving a. A friend of his, Andy Wood, who had. Who had passed away. And that. That's how grief works at first. It gets in your head and then it becomes a soul problem, you know.

And it just reminded me that of the stages of grief, Elizabeth Kubler's Ross Ross's stages of grief, and that this, this rebirth moment, this Ten of Swords moment, might have to do with actually fully we in. In other words, it's like that rock bottom moment. You have to actually fully grieve before you can be reborn. And I think, you know, I've noticed myself like, Like, I'm still pretty.

I'm pretty pissed off about some things. And if I'm honest with myself, it's kind of, you know, chronic. And I realized, like, you know, dude, that's grief. That's like. That's literally one of the stages of grief, right? There's denial, there's anger, there's bargaining. And notably in all of the mythology about getting out of the underworld, you know, is always a bargain, right? So bargaining being a stage of grief, and then there's depression, and then there's acceptance.

And so this idea that we might have to go through some. The messiness of some grieving before we are able to be reborn, and that's okay too. Obviously, like, we're better off not. That's maybe some of the stuff that we need to drop with the background backpack is not that grieving is a bad thing that we need to drop. But the. But the. But not fully grieving is something that we need to drop.

Not allowing ourself that grief is the thing that we need to drop. So the Ten of Swords is actually kind of like the Phoenix that's consumed by flames, but the sunrise promises rebirth. So at this place, you know, consider the stages of grieving and like, you know, I had to admit to myself, wow, I think I'm still grieving from the pandemic. And so, you know, you can use ritual to aid that process.

You can talk to somebody, maybe even seek help if you think you need to. You can use that new moon of June 14th as a. As a rebirth ritual, maybe to honor whatever it is that you're letting go of. Because it's one thing to say I'm going to put the backpack down, but if you've really invested in that, like putting it down, making an altar, putting flowers, like really loving it before you let it go, that's how you're going to be able to actually let it go, you know?

Okay. And then the rabido is the reddening. This is like the returning of the full blood of life. And that, for me, is Jupiter in second decan of Leo. And this corresponds to the six of wands card, which is like this victorious guy riding a horse or a lion with a crown of laurels on his head. And it's like this wonderful, successful image. And this is. Obviously, we only get this about every 12 years, so this is a fairly rare opportunity.

Jupiter is going to be in that dcan. And direct from about August 14th through October 2nd. So we have. And in particular, Jupiter's day is Thursday, right? So Thursdays on August 14th through October 2nd is a wonderful time to work on your goals. The word here is carpe. Anim sees the year, and the image is the six of wands. So on Thursdays from August 14th through October 2nd, hopefully you've already taken some time to dream.

If you don't know what it is you want and you've identified a goal, maybe if you're still working on that, you can brainstorm around some things that you've been having, then watch for synchronicities. Maybe you have a couple different things. You're not sure which one, like, which one is it? And then there's a synchronicity. And one of them is like, you know, sort of answered by a synchronicity.

And you go, ah, the universe is telling me, not there, there. That's like how the universe tells you, not there, there. There's a synchronicity, you know, and so that's a. That's a way that you can really get some help from the universe and in deciding which way to go. And then, you know what, the hero's journey usually starts with the. With the hero saying, nah, man, actually, I'm pretty good.

You know, I got a lot going on over here. I'm chilling at the home, like it's all good. You guys have a great adventure, right? That's denial of the call. Like, so we have to muster the courage to answer the call to adventure. And so that's what in the second decan of Leo is about. Like committing with courage to our dreams. Like, having the courage to say, I'm gonna go after my dream.

I'm gonna do it. Because now is. There's this incredible moment. All the astrologers are saying, there's this incredible time. I'm gonna do it. I'm gonna go after my dreams. Use the decan. You can use decan magic. So basically the picatrix is very. Pikatrix is like an ancient grimoire of magic. It's a famous ancient grimoire of magic. Basically it says, like, as long as the planets in the decan, the.

The match, the. The things of that decan will manifest. So that's really all you need. It helps if it's dawn on Thursday because Jupiter is the ruler of this. So especially sunrise on Thursday during this time that I was telling you, those are really magical moments. And so you can just go out and talk to the sun, make a. Make a friend. I call him grandfather. He's my grandfather.

Like, I talk to him all the time. And even if I'm just, ah, thank you for your love and your light. Thank you for life, you know, and by the way, that I have a dream. Did I tell you? You know, and that's, that's basically just what magic is. It's like knowing the, The, The. The symbols and the, the parts of the zodiac that are being activated, knowing the days and times when those are especially active, and then just going after, you know, your dreams during those magical moments and trusting that that's going to do something that you can't even possibly imagine.

You know, mark your calendars, you guys. Thursdays between August 14th and October 2nd. At sunrise. Yeah, especially at sunrise. But really, like, just Thursdays are great. And really any day is great, but Thursdays are. You're better. And dawn on Thursdays is like the super greatest. So, Gary, we have. We're gonna go to Adam next and we'll finish with maybe like five minutes of conversation about both what Gary shared and Adam shared.

But I want to make sure that we get Adam's. Of course. So let's go to that. Thank you so much, Gary. Beautiful. Amazing. You're welcome. Yes. Isn't it cool how all the astrologers bring such different perspectives and they really contribute from their unique lens so we can get an even Fuller picture. That's one of the things I love about having all of you here and getting to really experience your different perspectives in one setting.

It's really awesome. Okay, Adam. Thank you for the hermetic dose, Gary. I may have needed it going into what I'm about to talk about. Welcome. So my. My song. I thought I had to pick an actual song, so I had Hard Times by Charlie Crockett on my mind. But I'll put the hyphen of calm minds prevail, like you asked me before. And so that'll be by theme here.

We'll go with. And it'll be a bit mundane in the sense of, like, I have been looking forward to this year for about seven, maybe eight years now, because there's these two cycles that have nothing to do with astrology, but they have everything to do with astrology. One of them relates to the Fourth Turning. Maybe you've heard about it before, maybe from me, because I've been rattling on about it for years.

And the other relates to the real estate cycle. That one's correlated to the nodes of the moon, the 18.6. And the fourth turning is correlated to the Uranus cycle. I'll give a little context. The Fourth Turning was a book written in the mid-90s by Strauss and Howe and their demographers. And they talk about how the Saeculums, which is a Greek word for a long life, are composed of four generations.

And these four generations have a very interesting relationship to one another. The saeculum is 80 to 90 years. And while you read or listen to these men talk about this theory, you can't help as a student of astrology, to be like, I think they're talking about it. Uranus cycle. And when I read the book, which was during the pandemic, I had 2,000 years of Uranus ingresses next to me while I was reading it.

And so every day, every example that they were giving, and they only give six cycle examples in the book, but still, it was the most remarkable thing. And one of the biggest takeaways is literally happening right now and officially on April 26, because once Uranus moves into Gemini, it's basically the end or the beginning of the end of the whole Saeculum. Every single Fourth Turning culminates with Uranus in Gemini.

Now, when we look back, there's some terrifying things that we do find. And so I just have to be honest about that, because the last time Uranus was in Gemini, it ingressed in 41. And so World War II was happening and it all kind of came to a head while Uranus had its seven years in that sign, before that it was in the late 1850s into the 60s.

It was a civil war. And by the way, because I've seen it in the comments, this is American focused, it's Anglo American. It goes into English history as well. But I think it can be superimposed on any kind of culture or history as well. Before that, the American Revolution. Before that, the glorious revolution in England. Before that, the War of the Roses with the Game of Thrones is based off of.

And so it's just this really compelling way of understanding how demographics affect history. But then you superimpose Uranus on top of it and you're like, well, why is it that when Uranus moves into Gemini, the cycle tends to peak? Now this could be specific to the English American tale, and I'm biased to it being so, but it's an interesting focus in our moment because we still do see the United States as the global superpower.

The dollar is still the reserve currency. And so it's an important story to track for what comes next. Right. And so what this also means is that you maybe have looked at the Sibley chart for the U.S. but Uranus is in Gemini. Trump has Uranus in Gemini, conjunct his son. And so there's all of these other transits in a mundane sense that are starting to culminate over the next seven years.

But it really starts to take off on April 26th. And I find this to be a great relief personally, because the post World War II World has run its course in a lot of ways. I don't want to get into the details, into the economics and all that kind of stuff, but we all feel it, we all know it to be true. And this is the marker of the final moment of crisis.

And as it moves deeper, like close to the deck. And Gary was just talking about with the new moon on the 14th in June, we're already kind of be one foot in the next saculum, especially once Uranus moves into Cancer. And so that's point one. And it's a big point because it's just been something that I've been studying for a while and the fact that it's finally here and you can kind of see the chess pieces playing out and it's hard to know exactly how it's going to be, but we know that to be a big indicator now the second piece.

And I can answer questions about the generations too, but I'm going to move over that for now, the nodal cycle. So the 18.6 year nodal cycle. And I'm sure a lot of you are familiar now with the lunar standstill stuff because of Gemini. Brett. It's fascinating how the Moon's orbit gets to these extremes every 18.6 years. And there's a bit of correlation with this as well. But these ideas come from Phil Anderson and he has studied real estate cycles throughout history.

And every 18.6 years we get this peak to all land and just real estate values across the globe. The reasons seem to be quite similar, but the correlation with these nodes is fascinating. And often it peaks when the nodes move into Leo Aquarius. That's happening depending on whether you use true or mean in July or August. And so also kind of overlapping with Gary's sweet spot with Thursdays and such.

And the last time this happened was in 2007. The time before that was in 89, which overlaps with the Saturn Neptune cycle. The time before that was in the early 70s. And there's big points to be made about all those different periods of time, but it's just really good to know if you're in the real estate business, if you're looking to buy a house, if you're looking to sell a house, if you're a younger generation person that really wants to have a home.

Understanding this nodal cycle is crucial in making plans and, you know, just having like a deeper intention. With the Saturn and Neptune thing we were talking about, like Rebecca was placing with the 20th, what does this dream? What do you want from it? And then this whole thing is about to spiral out and reset itself over the next year or two. So it's a really good point to be made if you are thinking about these things.

Let me get some water. And so together, like I made this point, this little bit of a joke, how every year since I've been studying astrology, there's always been these big predictions about what's going to happen. It's going to be this catastrophic year, everything's going to change. And a part of me does think that to be true. But 2026 is really unique because of these huge cycles culminating and there's a lot of history to back them up.

And I find it even more interesting that the conclusions of, you know, especially the fourth turning one didn't even come from astrology at all. But it's perfectly in sync to it. And I find that just fascinating. And so I'll keep it at that. I don't want to get into the details around it because it's not exactly astrological, but I'm willing to answer questions when we get there. Okay, clarifying question.

Around the 18.6 nodal and the real estate market, are you saying that we're coming up on a peak in prices? We're in it. We're in it now, but then when we hit the Leo Aquarius nodal axis shift this summer, that things will start going the other way. That things will start, the prices will start going down. My assessment of how this plays out is we're in it, but there's going to be one last final run up.

So one of the news pieces this week was Trump, AKA the Red King, as I call him, is trying to make it so you can use your 401k in your retirement to buy houses. Oh, okay. Also, he wants interest rates to be back down. Deserve. He wants them down. That's why the war is happening with Powell. Right. And so, like there's a perfect storm coming and if his administration gets his way, mortgage rates will come down, people will start buying homes again and then you'll get the final run up, which is what Phil Anderson talks about.

He's the resource of this. And so what I think is there's going to be a final phase of all of this going into the end of the summer of high prices, blow off top. There's going to be a blow off top, not just in real. So also a really good point that he makes is that the real estate cycle governs all markets. And so it's not like global liquidity.

It's not interest rates per se, it's part of it. But the main thing is just land value. Right. And so there's going to be this final blow off top moment between now and end of summer. It's tough to time this stuff, but that's the way it seems to be, you know, in motion. And so that's what I mean. Like, it's a really good idea to know, like, are you trying to sell?

Should you keep renting? Is it the best time to buy? Depending on what you're buying? You know, like, it's just really important to consider this because when you listen to him or you look back yourself at these previous times, it is deadly accurate. I mean, 2007 was the last one. So like this, I bought my first house. That was a really grand idea that I ended up having.

Well, if you would have known maybe. Exactly. I knew nothing about astrology, I definitely would have held up. Wow. Interesting. Okay, so Adam's bringing in some and for those of you that are new to astrology, mundane doesn't mean boring. What kind of. To some people, it's boring world astrology. Astrologers are talking about mundane astrology. They're looking more at the astrology that's impacting the collective, the world and things like government and money and economics and things like that.

So there's, there is that perspective of astrology and then there's the individual personal. So this, we've gotten a blend of all of it here tonight. Yeah. Is there anything. So we're, we're in our final moments here. Anyone who wants to hang out and ask me questions, we can talk about the inner circle. We can talk about some of the things that we, we learned here tonight. Anyone who wants to hang out, I'm going to hang out and my team's going to hang out.

But we're going to let the astrologers go and what we want to hear and actually, you guys, this isn't the end. We have three more astrologers tomorrow for two more hours. So we're going to be going into more and more of the aspects of the year ahead and more perspectives on what it means, both mundane and individual, personal, what you can do about it. Right. What would you want to leave us with?

So this is. This. We're now like midway through this forecast event for 2026. What do you think is really important to leave us with as we all go off into our worlds? Many people going to sleep tonight. Yeah. Let's go. And let's go. Why don't we go in reverse order from what we did? So we'll start with Adam. Well, with everything I just said, I know some of it can be a little scary, right?

Like if there's this big crisis culminating with Uranus in Gemini and, you know, another 2007, 2008 type thing maybe stirring. That's real, that's concerning. But again, like, we don't know enough to worry. And it's just so important to like, keep your practices, keep these studies intact too. It's like you're all here to learn astrology. And so looking back in a mundane sense is where my mind's at currently.

But I've been doing this for so long. It's all cycles, synodic cycles. For you personally, looking back to 89 and seeing what that was both for the nodes and we saw the correlation with Saturn and Neptune and so just studying yourself and just not freaking out and kind of being excited that we get to be alive for this whole thing. I mean, it's kind of interesting. And so that's where I'm at.

I'm, you know, like, I'm not freaking out about it all. I'm just interested. I want to learn always, and I hope you guys can do the same. Well, there's always opportunity in all kinds of moments, and we get to choose which. Which aspect of it we want to align with. Yeah, Gary. Gary. Yeah. You know, we talked on a podcast recently, and I was talking about, you know, the Aries energy, about just being the.

I am just being here now, you know, and ultimate. And like being all. All. All the way here. Like, not just in your head, not like, but like in your body and in your instinctive self and in your heart and in your consciousness. Yeah. Like, that's the only starting place that really works. You know, it's to really be fully here, and then. Then we can go wherever we.

We're called to go. You know, we got to start where we are. And so really just being here and, and, and back to what Mark said, like, being okay with that, who you are right now, you know, it's pretty great. And if it's not, it's probably going to get better. Awesome. Thank you. Gary. I saw a question in there about what time tomorrow it is. 11 o' clock Pacific, 2 o' clock Eastern.

I can't do GMT and all the other time zones, but those are the ones I can figure out right now. So 11 Pacific, 12, 2 Eastern. Okay, 7 GMT. Thank you. 7 GMT. Thank you. Yes. Okay. Rebecca. Oh, muted. Okay. Hi. First, thank you. I think I'm going to come back to the word instinct and just like, reflecting on. Personally, every time I've trusted my instinct and just went all the way with it, things worked out really well, and new doors open up and more.

And it's just a part of us that has. We haven't been so much condoned with. You know, we've taught. We've been taught a lot about logic, and Aries are. I don't know if you all know many Aries, but they're probably the most instinctual people on the planet. And you can drop them anywhere on the planet, in the jungle, anywhere, and they will figure it out. But this is a part of all of us.

So coming back to that, I would say there's a combination here of instinct and intentionality with what we're creating out of this sort of womb space now. But to know that you do have the freedom, freedom in that bleached silence now to kind of make that Mark and create and it's probably a good time to also just listen to carve out space. I feel like the Buddhists are going to be fine with this time, you know, but ultimately for us all, yeah, it's a time of initiation and taking a risk, which is a very Aries thing to do.

Thank you. Thank you so much. Okay, Mark, I agree with all the astrologers and what they've said. I want to just go over maybe a little bit of what I've already said, but there is something about this year that's going to be hugely change worthy for everybody. The world is going to change this year and into next year and we're going to be part of it. So I want to say that try not to get too caught up in what it needs to look like.

Don't get in the way of it. Don't get in the way of how much money is it going to make. Get caught up in the result. Get caught up in how it's going to look further down the line. Just go with an instinct. The other astrologers have mentioned this. Just go with the part of you that actually feels that where I'm being beckoned or where my soul wants to take me feels right for me.

And I'm not going to question it. I'm not going to put doubts around it. I'm not going to look at how it's going to risk anything around me because I don't believe it is. And try your best to just come into alignment with something that's already meant for you. You know, it's not even like, oh, I've got to make it happen. It feels like this is part of my story, this is part of why I'm here.

This is meant for me. Some people would say it's already happened for you and you just have to walk it now. So there's something about that kind of energy that I want to leave people with. Yeah. You guys are awesome. Thank you so much. This has been rich and full and I mean, I literally have pages of notes. We could have this conversation over and over all year.

And we will be. We will be. We'll be doing this on the podcast, we'll be doing this in the inner circle. We'll be here to continue to help you remember. Remember who you are, why you're here. Remember that you chose to be here in this moment and that you're resourced. There's a reason for you and there's something you're here to contribute. And I love this question. That has come up so many times.

Ask what your soul wants. Ask what your soul wants. Okay, you four have just been. Oh, amazing. The balance between you, the insights between you, the energy that you all came here with and all the preparation that you did for. For this event. Thank you. Can't wait to continue these conversations with you in the inner circle. And to all of you, you are amazing. The chat, the energy.

I can feel you. You're all out there. We can feel you. Thank you for showing up, for asking questions, for being curious, for seeking, for showing up for yourself and showing up for this moment. The more of us who do this, we create that. What did you call it? The strange attractor? Is that what you called it? Yes. Yes, we are creating that. It's just incredible. So thank you for being here and thank you for being awake and aware enough to be even curious and asking the questions and hanging out on a two hour webinar about this.

This is so great. All right, so, and in the chat, if you can, what's one takeaway from tonight? Like, what's one thing that just went bam? I call them highlighter moments. They're the ones that are just like, stand out, like bright streaks. What's the one thing that you're taking with you and who's coming with us tomorrow? Let us know in the chat if you'll be here tomorrow. There will be a recording of both of these events.

The recording is available for free through Monday night. Make time and space this weekend to catch up with what you missed. And if you join the inner circle, you'll have access to it for life. So we are so excited to welcome any of you who are ready for that. And I'm gonna. I'm gonna stay here and answer any questions. If you have questions about the membership, I'm here.

So Rebecca, Mark, Gary, Adam, we love you. Thank you so much. Thanks, everybody. Thank you, guys. Thanks. Amazing. Thank you, everyone. Happy New Year. Lines of love. Just leave if you want. We're good. All right, Bye, Amanda. We'll see you. Thank you. Bye, you guys. Okay, so anyone want to hang out? Anyone want to ask questions? Was that amazing? I mean, I loved it. So if you are thinking about joining us in the inner circle and having some questions or just curious or just want to chat, we'll hang out for a little bit longer.

And we do this at the end of all these events. It is always fun. So I like answering your questions and just hanging out with you. So. Okay. I'm looking at love and chow for now. Bye, Ann. I just joined. Oh, yay. Who is that? I'm gonna say. Thank you, Tanya. Fantastic. Amazing. So you get the bonus. You're going to get the bonus Health, wealth and Fulfillment workshop with Judith Hill, Michael Bryan and Georgia Stathis.

It's a really good one. So that's exciting. Okay, Jenny, it was my birthday yesterday. Yes, it was a really awesome birthday. Really, really amazing. Okay, so I'm seeing if there's anyone here and if you guys have questions. Okay. All right, I'm looking for the questions on my little thing. Okay. What are the hours for inner circle? All right. There are three live events per lunar cycle. The live events correlate with the lunar cycle, so we.

Oh, actually there's four. I'm sorry, there's four live events. So there's a new moon forecast. This is very different from our podcast for forecasts. The astrologers come and teach you about chart reading while they are doing the forecast. So they are going into beautiful, amazing depth. They have visuals, they have slides. They're really going deep into the astrology, not just for the new moon, but for the new moon and the next two weeks.

And then we get together again at the full moon. They're going to do another download for you on the astrology, but they're going to be teaching you about astrology, the archetypes, why they're interpreting things the way they're interpreting them. You're going to be again, tangibly learning about chart reading as you participate in that event. So, new moon, full moon, there's also a new moon ceremony. This is the.

This is the event that I get to facilitate for our members, and I love it. And essentially we are taking the energy that the astrologer has told us is going to be happening for the lunar cycle. And then we are setting our intentions for that lunar cycle with the astrology in mind, considering weaving in the actual moment and the opportunities of that moment. And then we're setting our intentions at that new moon ceremony.

They don't happen at the same time every time. We do our best to hold them at different times so that people in different time zones can show up for live events. And when you join, you will get actually even on the page. If you go to astrologyhub.com join now, you'll get to see the calendar. And when you join, you just get to click one link and add all the events to your calendar.

So they're there. Okay. The other live. Oh, and also everything's recorded. So if you can't be there live, you'll have access to the recording within 24 hours. And you get access to those recordings as long as you're a member. Then you also have a live chart reading demonstration. So your guiding astrologer for the lunar cycle coming up, it's going to be Gary, who you met tonight, and then Mark Lawrenson.

They also teach a mastery class. This mastery class is pre recorded and it's on some sort of chart reading technique. And so at the end of the lunar cycle, you're also going to have a live Q A and chart reading demonstration from your teaching astrologer who is going to use charts of the students and demonstrate the technique that they're teaching. So these are the four live events plus you get your mastery class which is pre recorded.

That's always dropped in your inbox on the new moon, on the actual new moon, you get your new mastery class teaching. So and I can't tell you the times because they do change depending on the day because we have astrologers all over the world. So we, we are considering everyone's schedules. But the good thing about that is that no matter where you live, hopefully there's going to be some that you can attend live.

And we also hear from members all the time. I, because I work, because I have kids, because whatever, I usually can't join the lives, but I always make space to tune into the recordings. And I feel so a part of the community even when I can't be there live. So you're definitely part of the energy of the community whether or not you can be there for those live events.

And I hope that answers your question. And that was from Karina. Okay, Molina, if you are a member, do you still have to pay for courses or do you get them for free? Melina, every lunar cycle you are going to get a mastery class teaching that is part of your membership fee. So we, when we sell these to non members, they're sold around $97. And we don't make every mastery club available.

So some of them never become available to the public. And as a member you get a $97 mastery class for $37 if you join during this promo period, plus all the other things you get in your membership. So it is an incredible deal. If you like the kind of mastery classes that we offer, if you like the teachers that teach with us, you're going to get incredible value.

Especially if you, you jump in during this promotional period because you're going to get everything. I just said those that the live new moon, live full moon, the chart Reading demonstration, the live Q and A, the mastery class, plus cosmic pulse texts to your phone if you want. These are daily texts that give you the real time transits. So you're like always in the know on the trans.

The biggest transit of the day you do get. Okay, there are a few things outside of the membership. So when we do larger class courses that are like three week courses or five week courses, those are not included in the membership, but Inner circle members get 20% off of those. So they get 20% off those bigger courses and 20% off reports. And when we do our little shooting star sales, they get 20% off that.

So if you do like to, to take our classes and things, it like within a few of. A few of those bigger courses that we offer, you will have already paid for your membership just with the discounts of what you're saving. So it's, it's a really great value. Really, really great value. Okay, Darcy, how do you join for a discount again right now? When you go to astrologyhub.com join now. The membership is discounted, so you'll get to see the discounted price. You can choose monthly, annual, or lifetime. And yeah, it's all 50% off right now. Okay, Renee, when do we renew our Inner Circle membership? Renee, are you currently a member? Because if you are, you don't have to do anything and you're just. You get to stay a member until you don't want to be a member.

So that's how it works. And you can go in and cancel your membership. You can even change your tier. So let's say you join as an annual right now, but you want to change to monthly later. You can do that or vice versa. You're monthly right now, but you want to change to annual. You can do that. So you can do all of that. Oh, are we doing another raffle?

We missed the last one. Oh, no, I forgot. Just straight up, I forgot. So I would say somebody that's here right now. Let's, let's raffle off a year of the Inner Circle to someone who's here right now. Team, can you choose someone and put it in, in the document for me? And then. So this person is going to get a year of the Inner Circle and we're going to choose someone that's still here live.

So there's how many people? And we will be doing a raffle tomorrow as well. And I'm really sorry that I forgot that. Darcy, how do we join astrologyhub.com/join now. Astrologyhub.com join now. Kristen, to join for the discount with the bonus. Do we need code? No, but to get the bonus, you need to join before we end this broadcast, so. Or tomorrow's broadcast. Like, that's the truth, because we'll be doing that tomorrow as well.

But if you're thinking about doing it right now, then you will definitely get the bonus. Health, wealth, and fulfillment. And then if you're on live tomorrow and you do it before that broadcast is over, you'd also receive that bonus. Okay, here we go. We have a winner. You guys ready? Okay, So, I mean, your odds are much higher than the odds when we had over a thousand people on here.

So the winner of a year in the Inner Circle is Haley Reed. Haley, congratulations. So excited to have you in the Inner Circle. And, yeah, email supportastrologyhub.com and we will get you enrolled. All right, Edna. Yes. You may join the IC tomorrow. And like I just said, you will also get the bonuses. Okay. Siobhan, how useful is the membership to those who are not astrologers or trained in astrology?

Great question. And Right now, only 8% of our membership are astrologers. 92% are not astrologers. They don't practice astrology professionally. Now. Some of them have been studying for many, many decades or years. What I would say, Siobhan, is if you, first of all, if you love learning, second of all, if you are fascinated by astrology, third of all, if you can follow the podcast, for the most part, not, you don't have to follow every guest, but if you do, you listen to the podcast.

I'd love to. To hear if you do or. Or watch it on YouTube. Did you track with the conversation tonight? Are you interested in going deeper into learning how to read your chart? We do have a bonus that you get when you join. It is a beginner starter kit, and it gives you a lot of the foundational elements of chart reading so that you can start to get your footing and your foundation.

But what I would say, I mean, when I started the Inner Circle, I didn't know much about astrology. I was still 100% learning. And it's designed. I like to think of it as, like, if you've ever been to a yoga class where, for the most part, everyone can do everything right. But then there's some of those poses that they throw in there for advanced practitioners, where you're looking at them going, wow, how are they doing that?

And, like, hashtag goals, Right? You can't do it now, but you can still Appreciate that someone else can do it, and it gives you something to aspire to that often can be what it feels like in the beginning. But what I promise, if you stay and if you immerse yourself in the conversations, in the language, and if you apply yourself to some degree, it doesn't even have to be a lot, but if you listen and take notes and absorb and show up, you will be shocked at how much you learn in a year, in two years, in three years, you will be like, whoa, I used to only.

I used to only absorb 80% of what they were saying, and now I'm. I'm absorbing 60%. I mean, this can. Can be a barometer I use for myself, especially with astrologers like Gemini Brett, for example. If I can track the entire conversation of what he said, I consider it a major accomplishment because there was a time when I would sit and listen to Gemini Brett and maybe only understand 10% of what he was saying.

So you'll see. It's just like learning a foreign language. The more you are around it, the more you practice. You will surprise yourself and someday you'll be like. We have had many inner circle members who started in the. Hey, everybody. So sorry. It looks like Amanda lost her Internet for a second. But if you want to stick around for a minute or two to see if she can hop back online.

Yeah, there's a lot of solar storm interference right now. There was a big solar storm happening yesterday, and today is what we heard. For those who don't know me, my name is Katie. I'm the community manager here at Astrology Hub and do a lot of this behind the scenes work. So super excited to meet you all. Thank you all for being here. And she's back. Wait, what just happened?

I don't know what just happened. I still don't. Solar flares. Right? Okay. So are people still here? Yes. It didn't end. Okay, good. Oh, yay. Okay, so I don't even know where I was. Siobhan's question, I believe on the. Yeah. Okay. Siobhan, does that answer your question? I don't know if you're still here, but. Okay. All right, I will go to Mitzi. Can we still make a monetary contribution?

It's like the sweetest question ever. Thank you. Yes, you can. You can go to astrologyhub.com giveasyou wish and I am blown away, you guys. Give. As you wish is something that we have just recently started doing. And to me, it is such a show. It is such a confirmation that we have created reciprocal bonds of affection with you guys and that you want to give to what we're doing.

And when you give, you become part of it. And it's just. It's so beautiful. And thank you. And it really does enable us to continue growing, to continue offering even more to the larger community. And, yeah, I just. I just want to say thank you. It really is a precious gift. And I see your names come through and I say thank you in my heart every single time.

And that's true when our. Our. Our. For our membership. You join courses, we buy reports, when you comment on you on our YouTube, when you leave a review on our podcast, when you share our content, all of it contributes. And I just want you to know how grateful we are because we love what we do and we love to offer it to you. And you showing us that it impacts you and is valuable in your life means a lot to all of us.

So thank you. Cheyenne, do you get past mastery classes? You don't get all of the past mastery classes, but you will get several mastery classes as bonuses right now, and you'll get instant access to those. It wouldn't be fair if you could join right now for, like, $37. And then you got, like, thousands and thousands of dollars worth of mastery classes that people did pay for. So your membership starts now.

However, you do get three bonus mastery classes when you join. And if you join tonight or before the broadcast ends tomorrow, you will also get that additional course, the Health, wealth, and fulfillment workshop that we did, which is, again, it's really amazing. One note, Amanda. The lifetime memberships. Oh, yeah. Oh, yeah. Okay. If you do want access to the entire library, then join as a life member. Wow.

Life is doing something really weird now because you will get the entire library of mastery classes, and it's a $7,400 value. You'll be getting for 3,700 right now. So this is if you are in a position to be able to do that and you want the library of classes that we've done for seven years, and they're amazing. The ones that we did in year one are just amazing the ones that are happening in year seven.

So, yes, that is an option. Okay. Thanks for that, Katie. Oh, Andrea, such a good question. Thank you. You guys are reminding me of things to say for the first. No, you are locking in that rate for as long as you stay a member. You will get a circle for $37 a month as long as you stay a member. And if we do raise our prices in the future, you are Locking that in.

So this is. We're not going to go, oh, oops, the membership's now 47 and now you have to pay that. And oops, your first month was 37, but now you have to pay the full price of 74. No, you are locking this in. That is true for the monthly, that is true for the annual, and that is true for the lifetime. Colleen, can you pay in installments? Yes, the monthly rate is installments.

So if that makes it easier, then definitely go with monthly. If you want to get two months free. When you join annual, you get two months free, then you might want to consider doing that. Joey, I'm being called to start a group, people who are waking up and curious about what to do next. Could you give me some advice on how to start it up? Oh, that's such a nice question, Joey, and go for it.

Amazing. We need groups, we need leaders, we need people stepping up and holding space for this huge transformation that we're all a part of. So I'm happy that you're doing this. Oh, it's a huge question, Joey. I feel like we could talk about this forever. Well, are you talking about something online or are you talking about something in person that would change what I would say and really just, you know, we just had in the inner circle, Rebecca Gordon, and, you know, we just had this Capricorn new Moon, and it was a powerful new moon, and it was a very.

It is a very supportive new moon. So this lunar. And we're still in the new moon energy. So what I would say is right now or in the next week or two, really get clear on who you want to engage with and what it is you want to contribute to them and really start to visualize these groups and then commit to taking one or two steps, tangible steps, in person at first.

Yeah. I need to ask you more questions. And how do you already know people? Is there starting. I mean, I think of 10 years ago, I knew two astrologers. I didn't even know if there were more astrologers. I didn't know if there were a lot more astrologers. Not very many. I really was so clueless. But what I knew, Joey, like you, was that I was being called tribute, something I contributed to be positive.

I wanted to have a positive impact in people's lives, in the world. I knew that I wanted to be passionate about it. I wanted to love what I was doing, and I knew that I wanted all my unique gifts. And then I waited until the opportunity arrived. And when the opportunity arrived, it was like, yes, that, that's it. And that was astrology. Hub. So I would say in this liminal, like what, what Rebecca was saying, in this liminal space of like we're about to birth, things are about to get more clear to really just listen, to really listen and do what you can to, like the astrologers were saying, empty yourself of who you've defined yourself as, any limitations that you've set on yourself and really open up to stepping into a new role.

And don't think you have to have it all figured out yet. You don't and you kind of can't. And that's one of the things I'm really getting from this astrology, Astrology. If you feel like, if you feel like you have it all figured out and you have your like 10 year plan, you're probably gonna have to undo a lot of that because we don't know. So allowing yourself to be in that unknown and just every single day asserting that you are here to be of service, that you are here to contribute your gifts, and that you are open to instruction and direction from the universe and say, make it obvious, make it clear, order my steps, all those kinds of things really have helped me.

So I hope that helps you at all. Joey Drea, I've noticed that AI is often wrong when I ask about astrology. Has this been your experience? Experience? Oh, yeah, with one caveat. The only time I found AI correct with astrology is when I give it all of the information. I give it the placements. I go, my sun is in Capricorn at 29 degrees. My Venus is in Capricorn at 28 degrees.

My rising is Aquarius at 14 degrees. You know, when I like give it the information, then it's pretty good. But if I say, here's a chart read can be like blatantly wrong. And the only way you would know it's wrong is if you know some astrology, which is kind of scary because there's probably people out there that don't really know much about astrology and they think that it's right.

So at least knowing enough to know that we need to question it is good. Patricia, can you please explain the levels of inner circle? Are you asking me about the levels of payment or are you asking me about the levels of experience? Like, I need a little more information on that. Patricia Ann, are there opportunities for us to work on our own chart? Yes, there are always opportunities for you to work on your own chart.

Every technique that you learn, you can apply to your own Chart. The astrologers are available in our online community for you to ask questions. So you'll take their mastery class and then you'll apply it to your chart and then you'll go, huh, I don't get this. Or I'm thinking this means this, but is that true? And then you can ask the astrologers in the online community. You can also ask your peers in the online community, because there are people in the inner circle that have been practicing or doing charts who aren't even necessarily calling themselves astrologers, but who know a lot.

I mean, they definitely could be astrologers. So yes. And then finally, for the chart reading demonstration and live Q and A that you get every single month where the astrologer is there demonstrating the technique that they taught, they are using student charts, so you can submit your chart to be used for that. And so it's kind of like you get. Get free little mini readings and that happens once a month.

So yes. I mean, it kind of all. It's. It's all about your chart. It's all about you. It's all about you understanding yourself so that you can live the mission that you came here to live. And it's called the inner circle, but we call it IC for short. And if you know in the chart, the IC is the foundation, the roots, the family. And so it really is like a family, the inner circle.

And it's where you go to get grounded in yourself, including how to look at your chart so that you can live the mc, the expression out in the world, the thing that you're here to contribute. So it's all working together. Okay, if I rejoin, will I be able to access the mastery classes from my previous membership? Are they gone for good? I don't know. Team, I need your help on that.

Yes. All past mastery classes and any courses that you've purchased you should have access to in your learning portal. If you have any trouble, just email us@supportstrologyhub.com okay, perfect. Lisa? Ah, I love these questions. Thank you. These are great questions. If you choose the monthly membership and receive the discount, will the discount be valid for the entire year or just for the first month? Yes, entire year. And as long as you stay a member.

If you decide to stay for the next 10 years, which we hope you do, of course, you don't have to. You can end your membership at any time, but you will have that. You'll lock in that rate. If you decide to leave and then we raise the prices, you would have to come back at that, whatever that rate is. But as long as you stay, you're locking that in.

Is Rebecca's month's recordings mastery class available if we join now or before the 31st of January? Yes, yes, yes, yes. And it is an amazing mastery class. Everyone's raving about it because she's teaching a chart reading technique that is simple and profound, and it's turning your chart, using the elemental makeup of your chart into like an ecosystem. And from understanding the ecosystem of your chart, interpreting what that means.

And so this is the way that she reads charts. And so you're going to be learning a new chart reading approach that you can use for yourself. And if you do read charts for other people, friends, family, clients, you will have a whole nother way of approaching chart reading that is both simple and profound. Okay, Kendra, does Lifetime get you all the moon cycle and ceremony monthly classes as well too?

Yes, Kendra, you get everything. You get the. You get everything and you get all the mastery classes. The library of mastery classes. It's really an amazing. If you have the means and if you have the desire, it's a smoking deal. Okay, Benedict, can I purchase a signed copy of your book while on Maui? You're so cute. Are you here right now? I'm trying to remember. And I think you emailed me and I'm so sorry if I didn't respond.

Okay. The answer is yes and no because we shipped all the books to my parents in California because shipping to Hawaii and then me shipping to all of you from Hawaii is so expensive as you know. So I'm. It depends on how long you're going. You're going to be here because I'm going to ask my parents to send one box to me because I really want to be able to give them to people.

So can you email me again? And I'm so sorry. And also you can direct message me in the inner circle membership community. I respond to people there directly. So either email me or send me a direct message. But that's so sweet and I'm so honored that you want that. Okay. And I want to see you, Charisse. Just curious, is there a center in Hawaii for Astro Hub? I'm coming out to Hawaii for three weeks in February and would love to meet up with someone.

Okay. Well, no, I currently am in my podcast studio that is right outside of my house. But when people come into town, I love to meet them. And if there are more people in town, then we could maybe do a little gathering or maybe we meet at a coffee shop or maybe we meet at the beach or maybe we meet at a park. But reach out to me.

Okay, Charisse. And maybe you'll be here when Benedict is here. That'd be fun. Okay. Amandaastrologyhub.com Isabel, where's the online community hosted? We use a platform called Mighty Networks. And so, yeah, we were on Facebook for many years and then we left Facebook and now we're on Mighty Networks, where we've been for several years. And it's great. So, yes, Siobhan, I think I zoned out a bit. What is the summary of what you get with the membership?

Thank you. Okay, can Katie. Wow. The light. I never do a broadcast at this time. Katie, can you please put the slide up that has the breakdown of what they get? Because I was going to do this during the broadcast, but we just. There was just so much content and I didn't want to take away from the astrologer's time. Yes. Give me one sec. For sure. Oh, my gosh.

Can you see that? Okay. Yay. Oh. Kate and Elizabeth and Carolyn and Katherine and Tanya and Karine and Nicole and Joyce and Earlyana. Robbie. Joyce, Deborah, Helen, Anita. Welcome to the inner circle. So happy you're here. Okay. Okay, so this is what you get. Every single lunar cycle is guided by a new astrologer. So some of them come back again and again. But so, like, coming up next, well, right now you would join for Rebecca Gordon's month.

Coming up next, next we have Gary Caton. Coming up after Gary Caton, we have Mark Lawrence Lawrenson. And then we have Gemini Brett coming. We have Penny Thornton coming and Ricky Williams coming. I mean, there's the. The lineup for this year is epic. So you can see their little faces down there. Kaelyn Castell. See, I'm. They're really small. I can't really see that. But they're there. All right.

And then that astrologer is going to teach you a mastery class each month, and that's going to be on some chart reading technique. Okay. You're also going to get their live new and full moon teachings. These are going to be teaching forecasts. So you're going to be learning astrology while you get the read on the energy of the lunar cycle. You're going to get the new moon ceremony that I get to host.

And you're going to get the live Q A and chart reading example session which I've talked about. You're going to get daily cosmic pulse texts. So these are going to be a quick summary of the most important Transit of the day with a little bit of guidance on how to work with that. And you're going to get the private online community. In addition, if you join this January, can you go to the next slide?

Katie? Oh, gosh. These bonuses, you also get 20 off. All astrology have courses and reports. So things that aren't in the membership, an inner circle starter kit, live new moon ceremonies, which was on the other side, but that's okay. Behind the scene perks and exclusives like, I mean we're constantly just surprising our inner circle members with little gifts and, and little perks along the way like priority access to things and getting to ask their questions.

And then we take their questions and we use them for events like this. So they, they really get to be engaged. They're very engaged. If you've been tuning into the podcast and you're like, I'd like to be more engaged with this community. This is the way to do it for sure. 3 never been seen before mastery classes. So you're going to get instant access to Jennifer Racioppi's defining your Saturn lesson, Adam Summers, the astrology of life chapters and Gemini invisible planetary alignment.

So you're going to get these three bonus mastery classes anytime you join in January. And then if you join tonight, you are also going to get this three part workshop with Georgia Stathis, Michael Bryan, Judith Hill and these three bonuses classes. So this was a series that we did a couple years ago. It's worth $297 and you're gonna get it for free as part of your membership if you join tonight or tomorrow.

Okay. Yeah. And this is what our members say. They're, they're like, we are an ohana. We are a family. We ohana in Hawaiian means family. But it also means any group of people who come together and share breath. And that's what we do. We come together in a rhythmic, cyclical way aligned with the rhythm of the lunar cycle. To share breath, to gain awareness, to remember who we are, to recommit to our mission, to go deeper in our learning of astrology and our communion with the cosmos.

It's gorgeous. And so we love, I love being able to welcome new members in and really just if you want to be more intimate with us and the community and the astrologers that you meet on the podcast, this is the place to do it. Okay. Any other questions? This is fun, you guys. Thanks for hanging out. Peak. That's such a good pk. Is it PK or peak? Do you provide any type of astrology software or is there a specific one that would work best with the classes and lessons?

So we have partnerships with some of the top astrology software providers and we do have discounts for Inner Circle members. So if you decide you want a professional software like Solar Fire or what's the other one? So Astro, Astro Gold. Solar Fire, Astro Gold. Astro Gold. Okay. We do have partnership with them and we get to offer our Inner Circle members discounts. And I always think of, like, when someone buys their first professional astrology software, it's kind of like a graduation moment.

Like you've reached that point where you're like, I want more. I want to be able to do more. I want to be able to look at more. But you don't need it. So you can absolutely navigate the membership, navigate most, if not all, mastery classes with the free softwares that are out there with Astro Deanst. Astro.com, you know, with the different, whatever platform where you like to look up charts.

I mean, not some of the little like phone apps like Costar or those ones. No, but anyone that's like really giving you charts with degrees, with aspects, those you can use to do pretty much all the mastery classes. So you can. And as an Inner Circle member, you're going to get a really nice discount or you can just use the free software, the free online tools until you're ready.

The Inner Circle Starter kit. Katie, I think I need some help with this in terms of just like, all the components of it. Can you help me break that down, please? Yeah. We have, I believe, three different classes in it. I think it was one of. One of the slides. Give me one sec. Yes. So the Foundations of Astrology course, the Chart Basics course, and the Secrets of the Zodiac course.

Super great. Any of them for foundational learning? Okay, fantastic. Joey, if you already have the cosmic pulse, do you. Do you discount the cosmic pulse? I already have. Guess what? If you decide to become a member, you don't have to pay for the. The Cosmic poll separately anymore. It is included with your Inner Circle membership. So that'll be another nice little bonus for you, Mary Kay. So for clarification, Inner Circle would be the monthly rate of 37 or annually or lifetime?

Yes, $37 monthly or $370 annually or $3,700 lifetime. So those are your three price options right now. And you will lock in whichever one you choose. And, and if you go, okay, well, I want to try it out. So I'll try it with the monthly at 37. And then you get in and you go oh, my God, I love this. I know. I want to stay and hang out for a long time.

You can move your monthly membership to annual, and we'll honor this $370 price because you locked in the promotion. So we'll honor the 370 if you decide to to move to annual. And when you do that, you do get two free months, so it's a great value as well. But if you want to just join and try it and make sure it's right for you, then the monthly option's great.

Andrea, will the discount annual price be the same next year as well? If we sign up today, yes. So you will get the 370 price next year as well, and the year after that, and the year after that, as long as we are in existence. Okay. Which is hopefully forever. Question from Abby. What all comes with lifetime? Katie? Do we have a breakdown of how many mastery class teachings and, like, a list of the actual classes?

Yes, I have a Google document, so if they want to email me supportstrologyup.com I'll send them, like, a little PDF file of every single class. And bonus that's included. Okay. Amazing. Okay, new members I haven't mentioned yet. Patricia, Susan, Lis, Nora, Ann, and Delmar. Yay. Woo. Welcome. We're so happy to be journeying with you. And you know what? We just did a new moon ceremony today for this lunar cycle, and I summarized Rebecca's new moon forecast, which you'll also get.

It's totally worth watching. It is so good. It's gonna make you so excited to really, like, dig in to. To what that vision or goal or dream is that you're holding in your heart. But we did a ceremony today. You're also gonna get a recording of that, so you can make a little space if you want to have, like, your inaugural ceremony in the inner circle, that's gonna be available to you as well.

Okay. Any other questions? This is so fun. I love being able to engage with people more intimately. You know, it's so fun to do the podcast and the YouTube, but I don't get to, like, talk to you because we record them and then we put them out. And I do respond in a lot of the comments, but not all the time. So let's see. Anything else? I think we might be ready to wrap up.

Oh, Joey, when I registered the other day for the monthly, it wanted to charge me for Rebecca's class. It is included. Yeah, that's definitely not right, Joy. Am I saying that right? That's definitely not the way it should be. So you definitely should have Rebecca's class and you do not need to pay extra for it. Okay, well, this has been such a gift. How many of you are going to be with us tomorrow?

Oh, okay. Joey, I'm trying to join and it says my account is on file and I need a password. Joey, I can help with that. Just reach out to me@supportstrologyup.com I'll make sure you're set up with the password. And that that weird tech glitch you run into is fixed. Okay, good. Edna, I'll see you. Deborah. I'll see you. Amy. Yes. You're going to join the inner circle tomorrow.

Awesome. Haley, so much gratitude and thanks. Oh, right back at you. I'm excited for you to be a member too. And Bernice is going to be there. Andrea Beck. Fantastic. What time? Hawaiian Benedict. Oh, so that means you're here right now. Yay. Okay, we need to hang out. Nine o' clock tomorrow for us early. Good night. See you at uac. Yay. Yes. We're going to be at UAC this summer.

I'm glad you enjoyed it. Deborah. I'm not sure. Abby, if you can't make it live, just look out for that recording. We're going to send it out within 24 hours. Okay. You are awesome, Kai Kyla.

Well, yeah. You'll follow? Okay. J Man, I have been charged. I have been charged twice. Can someone help? Yes, for sure. Email katieupportstrologyhub.com we will take care of it. Our support team is awesome.

They are on it. We just always want you to know that you are taken care of, that you are valued, that you are part of something real with like real humans. There's no AI bots answering your customer support questions. We're here. We're here for you with our full hearts. So thank you so much for being here. It's been such a pleasure and I cannot wait to see you tomorrow.

Take care. Good night. Have a wonderful, wonderful evening. We'll see you soon.
